CANADA-U. S. TARIFF PACT NOW IN SIGHT

Premier King's Proposal Certain to Be Discussed in Next Congress

EXPECT OPEN DISCUSSION

Democrats Will Use Reciprocity Suggestion to Force New Tariff Law

Washington—Reciprocity which has been proposed by Premier MacKenzie King of Canada has awakened no enthusiastic response from the Coolidge administration but this does not mean the issue will be easily squelched.

For the proposal has come at a most opportune time, more opportune than any occasion since the Taft administration. The whole subject of the tariff is going to be opened up at the next session of congress unless, of course, between now and next December, some of the criticism of the present tariff is allayed by the operation of the tariff commission on the flexible provisions of the law.

As one of the commissioners used to say, the flexible provisions have been like an elbow—flex only upward. Since that time, the president, who was not at all in sympathy with that policy, has reconstituted the commission and the expectation is that there will be some downward revisions. Whether these will be sufficient to remove the objections to the present tariff law is, of course, doubtful. For the act is the Democrats are getting on the tariff and they will use the reciprocity proposals of Canada as an entering wedge to secure reconsideration of the whole tariff law.

PREPARE ARGUMENTS

The Democrats will be fortified with all the arguments used by Frank McMillen and the American Republicans. The possibility of reprisals on the part of Canada has been suggested as one reason for a frank discussion of the whole problem. The existence of a friendly relationship between the United States and Canada has always made possible an intimate exchange of views but now that Canada has a minister in the United States and there is an American minister at Ottawa the opportunity for the negotiation of an agreement through diplomatic channels is better than it has been. American business is so vitally related to the prosperity of Canada that the first expressions of hostility to the plan are not likely to prevent a discussion, especially if Canada is at all inclined to press the issue. The fact that the United States was willing at one time to make a reciprocal agreement and that the Canadians declined will make it easier to consider here than if the situation had been reversed. The precedent will count strongly in favor of re-examination, though the administration's troubles with the farmers in the west over the veto of the McNary-Haugen bill are a factor that is little disposition to add to them by removing such tariffs as do exist on agricultural products. If by reciprocity is meant a recognition of certain barriers and an elimination of others, there is a possibility of agreement. The question finally will revolve itself on the political effect inside the United States of a removal of tariffs which certain sections influential in the next elections of 1928 wish to see retained.

TWO LONG DISTANCE AIR FLIGHTS HALT IN BRAZIL

Para, Brazil—(AP)—This city, at the estuary of the Amazon river Tuesday sheltered two long distance aerial expeditions.

Commander Francesco De Pinco, who is on a four continent flight, landed here Monday night from Manaus, completing the first flight over the Brazilian jungle. Two planes of the United States army food will re-land, the St. Louis, and San Francisco, arrived from Port Natal, in continuation of their flight over Central and South American countries. The Italian aviator's hop was about 1550 miles, while the American flew 1,100 miles, but their journey was halted about an hour at Sa. Luiz De Maranhao, 300 miles from Para.

BROWNING SAYS HE IS 'THROUGH WITH PEACHES'

New York—(AP)—Edward West Browning, winner of his separation suit Tuesday declared he was "through with Peaches."

"I'll have nothing further to do with her," the real estate man said "I'm through with her."

Justice Seeger's decision granting him the separation from the former Frances "Peaches" Heenan, has exonerated him, he felt.

ARMY TRANSPORT RUSHES TO PORT; FLUE HITS MEN

San Francisco—(AP)—The United States army transport Chateau Thierry, 700 miles from San Francisco, raced toward this port Tuesday while the ship's doctors fought to stave off an attack of influenza which so far has seized 55 of the 900 or more persons aboard.

Four have died aboard ship since the transport left New York for her Pacific coast destination via the Panama Canal. Preparations were under way at Letterman General hospital here to receive the patients. The ship is due Friday, but she may make port Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

The Chateau Thierry is carrying recruits drawn from all parts of the country. They are to be used as replacements at Honolulu and other Pacific ports.

The wireless message to Ninth corps area headquarters from the transport did not say that the four deaths were caused by influenza, but such was assumed to be the case.

ALARM SUBSIDING IN ALBANIAN FRONTIER JUGO-SLAV DISPUTE

Prompt Steps by France, Germany and Britain Quashes War Dangers

Paris—(AP)—Tension arising out of the Italo-Jugo-Slav-Albanian controversy brought to the fore by Italy's allegations that Jugo-Slavia was mobilizing military forces on Albanian frontier, had relaxed Tuesday. It appeared as though the war alarm was subsiding as rapidly as it arose. This was attributed to prompt steps taken by the Paris, Berlin and London governments.

After brisk exchange of views Monday between various capitals, there was further negotiation Tuesday. It was announced nothing would be left undone to settle the question to the satisfaction of all concerned, and to find a way to prevent recurrence of the trouble. For the most part the diplomatic efforts are understood to be directed toward satisfying Italy without having to invoke the good offices of the league of nations council. Italy declined to accept the authority of the council in 1925 in the dispute with Greece over the island of Corfu. But the council's action of the council still remains a possibility and the powers interested will not hesitate to do this should the situation show further signs of becoming aggravated.

MADE REPEATED DENIALS

Jugo-Slavia has made repeated denials of the alleged military preparations with a view to fomenting trouble in Albania. Notwithstanding this, Italian newspapers continue to publish stories of machinations in Jugo-Slavia for an Albanian insurrection.

France, having Jugo-Slavia more or less under her wing, has counseled the Belgrade government to act with utmost caution, while it is learned the British minister called at the Jugo-Slav foreign office Monday and likewise counseled moderation.

When the Italian minister at Belgrade attended Monday's session of the Jugo-Slav council, there was a demonstration by the opposition that compelled suspension of the sitting. Later when the national assembly resumed the session, Foreign Minister Perich expressed the deep regret of the Jugo-Slav government over the insult to the Italian minister.

HISTORIC MANSION IS OFFERED TO COOLIDGE

Prarie du Chien—(AP)—Through its chamber of commerce, the city of Prarie du Chien Monday offered President Coolidge the historic Dousman mansion on the Mississippi as place for his summer vacation this year. It is a reproduction of the Washington mansion at Mount Vernon.

It has 22 rooms, has ample servants' quarters, a yacht, and is thoroughly modern. An estate of 73 acres surrounds the mansion, giving a view up and down the Mississippi, three miles from the mouth of the Wisconsin where Marquette first viewed the Mississippi.

LOCOMOTIVE EXPLODES; THREE TRAINMEN DIE

Danville, Ill.—(AP)—Three men were reported killed Tuesday in a locomotive explosion at St. Peter, between Salem and St. Elmo.

Villa Grove, Ill.—(AP)—E. M. Robinson, Salem, engineer, Ed Bruce, fireman, and C. M. Farlow, head brakeman, both of Villa Grove, were instantly killed between 1 and 2 o'clock Tuesday morning when the engine of a freight train blew up near St. Peter in Fayette-co. The three men were on the engine.

KILL NATIVES IN GUARDING NEUTRAL ZONE

Looting Continues as Cantonese Arrive—Streets Strewn With Dead

BULLETIN

Shanghai—(AP)—It is officially announced that General Pi Shu-Chen, commander of the northern defense forces at Shanghai, has agreed to surrender. His capitulation was arranged Monday in negotiations with Chang Kai-Shek, national generalissimo.

The Kuomintang, or nationalist flag has been hoisted over General Pi Shu-Chen's headquarters but many thousands of Shantungese soldiers in certain sections this evening were still unaware of the surrender.

Shanghai—(AP)—British troops shot and killed at least twelve and wounded about a score of Shantungese when the latter made a fresh attempt to break through the barriers of the International settlement here late Tuesday morning.

Twelve Chinese were killed and eighteen wounded in another border fight between British and Shantungese troops a half mile to the west of the first fight.

Prior to the second incident 200 Shantungese, disarmed, had entered the settlement peacefully. Seven hundred more were exempted to enter and the British, who held the hold the latter made a fresh attempt to break through the barriers of the International settlement here late Tuesday morning.

Cantonese regulars, arriving in the Shanghai north region, are precipitating their forces efforts to escape into the foreign territory.

LOOTING CONTINUES

Sniping, fires and looting continue in the Chapel quarter just outside the International settlement where mobs, composed partly of Shantungese soldiers, partly of ordinary criminals and partly of the natives, hold the streets and the streets are strewn with dead. In numerous cases, the robbers have cut off women's fingers in order to obtain their rings.

Every place holding the promise of loot has been cleaned out, but the problem of the criminals is now to get away with their booty. As they leave the city they are met by swarms of entering looters, and bloody fights occur.

Numerous innocent people are reported to have been killed. The scenes in the Chapel are indescribable. Blocked thoroughfares prevent escape of the victims from the robbers.

Nothing is to be heard there but shots and the screams of the women, afraid to remain in the houses, who are roaming the streets unclad, having been stripped of their clothing by the soldiers in their wild hunt for loot.

USE MACHINE-GUNS

Sometimes, loot-laden soldiers are protected by comrades with machine-guns who think nothing of clearing the way down a crowded street by opening fire and killing scores of people.

But despite all this, it is declared that the Chinese is merely undergoing the experiences that scores of other Chinese towns have had in the past during the present civil warfare.

A prominent missionary authority says tens of thousands of villagers in the provinces of Shensi, Yunnan, Szechow, Honan and other parts of the country have been murdered in the last year. Tuesday night the sky was lighted by the fires.

A three pound shell struck the Presbyterian mission premises in the international settlement Tuesday afternoon and exploded, but there were no casualties.

4 AMERICAN WOMEN TELL OF ESCAPE FROM CHINESE

San Francisco—(AP)—Four young American college women arrived here Monday from China, telling a thrilling story of a 1,500 mile journey down the Yangtze river in an open sampan, of being fired on by Chinese bandits and revolutionists and of escaping under a hail of cannon shot.

The travelers are Mary M. Welch and Margaret Brayton, Detroit school teachers; Mildred Snell, Utica, N. Y.; and Margaret Brenneke, Y. W. C. A. worker of Watertown, Wis. All were at Cheng-Tu, 25 days inland, when American Consul Walter Adams notified them to get out.

NEGRO, FACING NOOSE, HANGS SELF IN JAIL

Danville, Ill.—(AP)—Nate Harris, colored, sentenced to be hanged here April 22 for a double murder, hanged himself in the county jail Tuesday morning. He tore a strip from his blanket and used it as a noose.

'Murdered' Girl Returns; 'Lifer' May Win Freedom

Harlan, Ky.—(AP)—Harlan-co's "travesty of justice," in which a woman is alleged to have, by perjured testimony conceived in jealousy, sent a man to prison under life sentence, came back before a grand jury Tuesday.

A petition for a pardon for Conley Dabney, 26, under life sentence for "the murder" of Mary Vickery, 16, was circulated Monday. Judge J. C. Forester ordered the grand jury to sift the case to the bottom.

"A frightful travesty has recently been committed in Harlan-co," Judge Forester said. "It is of such a nature as to horrify even the most calloused. A man was indicted in this court on a charge of brutal murder and assault on a 16-year-old girl. This man is serving time in the penitentiary under a life sentence for the murder of a girl who is alive and at the present moment is here in Harlan."

"The jury decided the case upon the evidence of witnesses. One of these witnesses detailed the murder of that girl as an eye witness. A more dastardly deed is inconceivable."

Miss Vickery, who came back Saturday with a story of having left home because she was dissatisfied, and Marie Jackson, 27, the state's principal witness at Dabney's trial, were among those expected to be called before the grand jury. Both are held pending an investigation.

Dabney, in a statement made at the reformatory the day Miss Vickery showed up, said the Jackson woman testified against him because he would not leave his wife and two children and go with her. Miss Jackson stubbornly clings to her story—that she saw Dabney kill a girl known to her as Vickery.

Two years ago Mary Vickery disappeared from her home in Harlan, Ky. A short time later a body was found at a mine entry near the town. Connie Dabney, a taxi driver, was tried for murdering Mary and sent to prison for life. But the other day Mary stepped off the train in Harlan as alive as you please. She had been working in a mill in Cincinnati.

ASSEMBLY DEBATES MEASURE TO EXEMPT TOBACCO FROM TAX

Senate Hurries Through Calendar in Short Session—Tuesday Morning

Madison—(AP)—While the senate was hurrying through its calendar Tuesday morning, the assembly debated at length the Smith bill, exempting leaf tobacco from taxation, and the Huber bill, repealing the baking powder label law, and was forced to recess until Tuesday night without taking definite action on the latter, after completing only a small portion of its calendar. The Smith bill was ordered engrossed.

The resolution thanking Senator Lenroot for his services in congress in having enacted a dairy law, amended in the assembly to include thanks for the whole Wisconsin delegation, and returned from the senate with the amendment stricken out, failed by a vote of 46 to 37.

The only other measures upon which definite action was taken were the Ingalls resolution, calling for a committee of two senators and three assemblymen to investigate forest conservation and water power and the Eber resolution for a similar committee to investigate the possibility of repealing obsolete laws. The Ingalls resolution was killed by indefinite postponement and the Eber resolution was adopted.

After voting down indefinite postponement by a vote of 31 to 52, the assembly ordered the Smith tobacco tax bill engrossed. The vote followed a long debate, in which the author, who represents Vernon county, called the bill "only a square deal for the tobacco farmer." He declared that tobacco was the only field crop taxed by this state.

In a short session Tuesday the senate passed and engrossed its whole calendar with the exception of one joint resolution.

ONLY 573 BALLOTS CAST UP TO NOON

Nearly 200 Fewer Votes Cast in Primary Election Today Than Year Ago

An exceptionally light vote was cast in the primary election up to 1 o'clock Tuesday noon. The lightest vote was in the Second ward, where only 36 votes were cast, 20 in the first precinct and 16 in the second.

Following is the vote this year as compared with the vote at 1 o'clock in the primary election in 1925:

500 Students Battle In Staid Maryland Capital

Annapolis, Md.—(AP)—Maryland's staid and ancient capital was recovering its composure Tuesday after witnessing unprecedented transformation of the usually austere statehouse circle into a volcano of exuberant truculence by half a thousand battle hungry Johns Hopkins university undergraduates.

A freshman class dinner, eventually eaten against vehemently expressed sophomore wishes, but in a building sans window panes and door panels, with much broken crockery, and under protection of eight lines of high pressure fire hose, was the cause.

One student seriously injured, four others known to have received hospital or medical treatment, a score nursing swollen heads, black eyes, sprains and bruises, nine in jail and a national guard army badly battered, is the officially tabulated result.

Bernard Brack of Baltimore, suffering a possibly fractured skull from a blow from a policeman's night stick, at Annapolis emergency hospital here remained unconscious several hours after the battle waned, and physicians feared if complications arose his injury might prove fatal.

The nine are under arrest on charges of entering and destroying state property, malicious mischief and heating riot.

The Johns Hopkins freshmen, 215 strong, their destination presumably secret, left Baltimore Monday evening. Hardly had they seated themselves around their dinner tables in the Annapolis National guard armory when 175 sophomores descended on the building with a whoop that rattled the eaves of the executive mansion and gave pause to the Maryland general assembly in the state house a few hundred feet away. Fifty attackers reached the interior in the rush, taking windows and swinging door panels with them. The dining hall reeled under a barrage of crockery and tableware, which found marks on both freshman and sophomore heads.

The Annapolis police force, numbering four men, stormed the gathered sophomores in the street, but made little impression. Mayor Alan Bowie Howard, who had been injured in the knee by a flying paving brick, called out the fire department. Sophomores were drowned out by eight high pressure streams of water. The nine students arrested were to be arraigned Tuesday.

CITY LIABLE FOR $200,000 TO BANKS HERE

Find Provision in Law Which Will Reduce Tax Refunds—Under Court Decision

Just how much money the city of Appleton will be required to return to the banks as a result of the United States Supreme court ruling on Monday that the state law taxing bank stock is invalid probably will not be determined for some time as it is not definitely known whether it will be necessary to refund the taxes paid by state banks, and there is a provision in Wisconsin law that if the bank stock tax law is held invalid shareholders in the banks shall be taxed under the Wisconsin income tax law.

A hasty study of the tax roll in the city hall indicates that banks have protested payment of approximately $196,025 since 1922. With accrued interest since that time the maximum amount which the city might have to repay, in the event there is no compromise or other rebate, is in the neighborhood of $225,000. In all probability the sum will be considerably less.

The supreme court decision was on an appeal by the First National bank of Hartford from the decision of the state supreme court in the case of the city of Hartford. The Wisconsin law taxing stock of national banks as personal property was an unfair discrimination and the United States supreme court upheld this view. Appleton banks protested on the same grounds and instituted suits against the city to recover the money they had paid but the suits were held up pending the decision in the Hartford case.

OPINION DIVIDED

Attorneys are divided in their opinion whether state bank stock will be entitled to recover under the decision. Some say only national banks were included in the courts pronouncement. It is likely this will be a matter for more consideration.

Tax roll records show a gradual increase in the total of bank stock in Appleton.

GOVERNOR NAMES DUFFY FARM HEAD

Ladysmith Man Is Nominated to Badger Senate to Succeed Commissioner Jones

Madison—(AP)—Governor Fred R. Zimmerman Tuesday submitted to the Wisconsin senate for confirmation the name of Walter A. Duffy, Ladysmith, to succeed John D. Jones, Jr., as commissioner of Wisconsin agriculture.

The Governor's action followed receipt of a letter Monday from Mr. Jones in which he stated he would retire from office March 31, or before if a successor could be selected.

Benjamin U. Davis, Pewaukee, was first named by Governor Zimmerman to succeed Mr. Jones, but his appointment was not confirmed by the senate.

Mr. Duffy, who is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, was a state assemblyman in 1914 and 1916 and is now employed as county agriculture agent in Ruskeco. He has been active in bovine tuberculosis eradication work in the county. Action on the confirmation will be taken Thursday.

FIVE MEN TRY TO BURN HOME OF GANG LEADER

Harrisburg, Ill.—(AP)—Five men attempted early Tuesday to burn the home of Charles Burger, gang leader, but were forced to retreat when met by revolver and machine-gun fire. About thirty shots were exchanged but no one was wounded. Burger said the men were from Franklin-co and were known to him.

MISSISSIPPI IS NEAR FLOOD STAGE IN STATE

PRINCE EDWARD AGAIN TUMBLES FROM HORSE

Holdenby, Northamptonshire, England—(AP)—The Prince of Wales was thrown from his horse Tuesday at the first jump in the army point-to-point steeplechase, but escaped injury.

GOVERNOR VEToes BLUE LAW CHANGE IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Columbia, S. C.—(AP)—A bill proposing liberalization of South Carolina's ancient blue laws which among other things prohibit playing golf on Sunday, has been vetoed by Governor Richards as legislation designed to amend or modify "the ten commandments of God."

The fate of the measure, passed a week ago in both houses of the legislature by substantial margin, now depends on ability of its supporters to muster two-thirds vote in both chambers, the prerequisite to overriding the will of the state's chief executive. The state senate, where the bill originated, will vote on this question Wednesday.

The governor by his veto has indicated he proposes to continue the rigid enforcement of the time old statute which he revived shortly after taking office. The proposed new law, his veto message said, would give the state "what is commonly known as an 'open Sunday' at least as to sports, and was, in his opinion, in conflict with the constitution of our state."

DECLARATION IN FORD LIBEL SUIT FAULTY, JUDGE SAYS

Suggests to Counsel That Sapiro's Allegations Need Amendments

Detroit—(AP)—The plaintiff's declaration in Aaron Sapiro's $1,000,000 libel suit against Henry Ford was pronounced faulty and in need the several amendments Tuesday by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond of Grand Rapids, Mich.

"The declaration, as it stands, is insufficient in many of its allegations," said the judge. "I suggest to counsel that before the case can go to the jury it needs to be amended in several particulars to clarify the issues so that the trial can bring about an equitable result."

The declaration consists of 21 counts, including 141 names and makes 579 paragraphs. The first count was being taken up when Ford's counsel made its allegation of insufficiency.

W. J. Cameron, editor of the Dearborn Independent, Tuesday morning assumed full responsibility for everything published in it weekly, and denied it depended upon the motor car manufacturer.

Sapiro, Chicago attorney, became widely known for organizing farmers' cooperative agencies, alleged that he was damaged by anti-Jewish articles printed in the Independent.

CAMERON IN CHARGE

"You're the editor, he said, you are right," became a formula for Mr. Ford's remarks to him, Cameron testified, when he sought to go into matters of the editorial policy of the publication which, as president Mr. Ford was titular head.

Even after the Independent received a demand for retraction after it had printed articles naming Sapiro in connection with an "international band of Jews seeking to dominate American agriculture," Cameron said that Mr. Ford's formula still was applied.

"Did he ask how far you had gone?" asked William Henry Gallagher, chief of Sapiro's counsel.

"I never discussed details with Mr. Ford," was the reply.

Sapiro's counsel said they probably would file the amended declaration tomorrow morning.

FAILURE OF TRADE TREATY

Smuggling Convention Might Bind U. S. to Enforce Foreign Rulings

MAY LIFT ARMS EMBARGO

Mexican Ambassador Confident of Harmonious Relations Between Nations

BULLETIN

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Mexican Ambassador Teller conferred with President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg at the Coolidge residence on Dupont circle Monday night, and Tuesday he said he entertained nothing but the most optimistic view of future relations between the United States and Mexico.

Washington—(AP)—An intimation that the United States had been unsuccessful in efforts to negotiate a commercial treaty with Mexico was contained Tuesday in a state department announcement that the smuggling convention between the two nations would be terminated on March 23. "The department in whose hands has rested the long standing and delicate situation involving American property rights in Mexico, issued a formal statement explaining that notice of termination of the treaty had been served on the Mexican government Monday night by the American embassy at Mexico City.

In the absence of a commercial treaty or other arrangements with Mexico "safeguarding American commerce against possible discrimination," the statement said, the "Washington government did not deem it advisable to continue the smuggling convention" which might in certain contingencies bind the United States to cooperate in the enforcement of decrees relating to the import of commodities of all sorts into another country."

HAS BEARING ON EMBARGO

The smuggling convention has a direct bearing on the American embargo on arms shipments into Mexico. Under the convention even the embargo were lifted, the United States would be required to notify Mexico of impending shipments of the United States of arms or any other commodities prescribed from importation under Mexican law.

Whether the recent secret correspondence with Mexico involved a renewed American effort to negotiate a commercial treaty with the country to protect American-owned property, has not been disclosed. Ambassador Teller has not visited the state department since his hurried trip to Mexico City to consult President Calles. He sent a communication to the department on Saturday, however, and the state department Monday night notified the Mexican foreign office that the smuggling convention would cease to be effective so far as the United States is concerned March 23 when its original one-year term expires.

With the convention off the books the Washington government would be in a position to raise the embargo on arms at any moment if it so desired. There was no indication at the state department early today however that the embargo would be raised for the present at least.

The announcement of American determination to terminate the treaty follows recent conferences at the White House, Secretary Kellogg and Assistant Secretary Olds having twice talked with the President within the last few days without disclosure of the reasons for their calls. Whether termination of the treaty foreshadows raising of the arms embargo by the United States so far as Mexico is concerned was not indicated.

The smuggling convention was signed Dec. 23, 1925, ratified March 11, 1926, and proclaimed March 18, 1926. It went into effect March 28, 1926.

RETIREMENT FUND FOR TEACHERS IS LIKE LIFE POLICY

Doudna Urges Mentors to Be Careful With Their Fund Certificates

The teachers' retirement fund is an investment system similar to life insurance. L. G. Doudna, secretary of the Wisconsin Teachers' association, said in a talk to the Appleton Teachers' association Monday evening following a dinner at the First Methodist church. About 200 teachers heard his explanation of the retirement system.

Five per cent of a teacher's salary is paid to the state each month and is placed to the individual's credit. The state puts in an equal amount after a certain period of years. A flat sum of $25 for each year is added by the state. This entire sum plus interest compounded at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent is a part of the teacher's estate. It is his until death and then it is collected by his beneficiary, the same as a life insurance policy would be, the secretary said.

No elaborate records are sent by the state to teachers, thus they often do not take sufficient care of their retirement fund certificate but it is as valuable as a life insurance policy, he stated.

The retirement fund law was adopted in 1921 as a result of the bankruptcy pension system established in 1911. This system was a "jack pot" affair which promised to pay flat sums to retired teachers and there were no funds to pay such amounts. The present fund is not a pension but is a "gratuity for meritorious service."

Teachers who were working in this state before July 6, 1921, when the new law went into effect are also entitled to a "prior service computation." It is computed the same as if the new law had been in effect during those previous years of service. The money from this "prior service computation" is available after 25 years of service and the teacher is 50 years of age.

Money for the fund is raised by a surtax on incomes over $3,000. The bill recently put before the legislature sought to change the system of collection but would not abolish state help for the system.

Money from the fund is invested in bonds which are held in the custody of the state. These have actually earned more than the required 4 1/2 per cent up to this time and it is probable that premiums will be paid after a number of years.

A teacher must be retired for six months before he has the privilege of withdrawing the money. After 25 years he may withdraw the money invested by himself in a lump sum but that supplied by the state can be withdrawn only as an annuity. The

SEE NO DANGER OF FLOODS IN WOLF AND FOX RIVER VALLEYS

Everett and Tripp Agreed That Control of Lake Levels Removes Menace

There is no apparent danger of high water or flood in the Fox river valley this spring, according to E. F. Everett, United States engineer in charge of the river. Mr. Everett's opinion is confirmed by Alan H. Tripp of Oshkosh, president of the Association for the Relief of High Water, who issued a statement this week saying that there is no need for anxiety about floods or higher water than at present.

The 15-inch lake level agreement between the government water power interests and riparian owners has been confirmed for another year, according to George Williams, attorney for the association, it was announced. At present the water is 6 inches above the crest of the Menasha dam, and it would not cause trouble even if the water went to 15 inches above the crest, which is a not uncommon occurrence, according to Mr. Everett.

"The Wolf river, from which source high water is most likely to come," Mr. Tripp said, "is receding. Lake Winnebago is at a moderate stage and the sluice gates at Menasha are partly open. Unless there is a change in the situation and the Wolf begins to rise I do not believe there is any cause for worry."

A letter received from Major John J. Kingman of Milwaukee, district federal engineer, states that the regulation of the level of Lake Winnebago will be continued on the same basis as last year. That is the water will not be allowed to go more than 15 inches above the crest of the dam at Menasha. This agreement was entered into March 20, 1923 and since that time there have been no serious floods in the Fox river below Lake Poygan. It has been found that the sluice gates at Menasha will control flood waters.

Beethoven Week Recalls Greatest Music Master

New York — A white-haired man with tense, uplifted face sitting at a piano in the moonlight. Strains of the Moonlight Sonata.

That is what Beethoven means to the average American. Lovers of Beethoven have determined that more should be known of their idol, the greatest of all composers. They have set Beethoven Week, March 20-26, the 100th anniversary of his death, as the time for Americans to make a household familiar figure of Beethoven, the genius and the man.

BOY PRODIGY
Ludwig von Beethoven was one boy prodigy who made good. Driven to ceaseless practice from the age of 4 by his German musician father, he made his bow in public at 8, played his own compositions at 10 and was assistant court organist at 14. He was world-famous at 30, when he presented his First Symphony.

"The mingled pathos and beauty" of his music with its universal appeal was the product of his own life-long struggle—first against poverty, later against deafness and then disease.

Through his whole life tremendous confidence in his own creative talent sustained him. No modest genius was Beethoven. Scornful of those who did not appreciate him, he once remarked to Prince Lobkowitz, his patron: "With men who will not believe in me because I am unknown to universal fame, I cannot hold intercourse."

LUDWIG VON BEETHOVEN

MUSIC A PASSION
His own music was the passion of his life. Everything was subservient to it. Personal appearance, living quarters, meals, sleep were of minor consideration. Launched on a period of composing he would forget to eat or rest.

Once, it was said, he bought a horse just before such a period and the poor animal was almost starved to death before a friend remembered it. Courtesy and consideration had no place in Beethoven's scale of values. His rudeness was proverbial. Bursting into a patron's home one day after a walk in the rain, he excitedly shook himself much as a dog would, never noting that he splattered the dainty gown of his guest.

Refusing the hospitality of a Viennese nobleman, he remarked to a friend, "I must get home every day at 3:30, put on a better suit, shave and so on. I couldn't stand that."

In his 20's he is pictured as "a young man, homely, dark and obstinate looking. Viennese people were familiar with him as a careless, unkempt figure with shaggy hair, seen daily on the ramparts of the city or along the country roads which he loved, walking rapidly, almost running in the excitement of composing as he went, singing his melodies aloud, arguing with himself over certain parts, gesticulating—a wild picture."

But with all his oddities Beethoven was a famous lover and a famous friend. Men love his music because it reflects the warmth and passion of a profound soul. So they are sounding the trumpet this week for their idol, the greatest of all composers.

$25,000 EXHIBIT OF ART AT LAWRENCE

Public Invited to See Collection of Famous Paintings Here This Week

An exhibit of 24 original oil paintings by contemporary artists and valued at $25,000 is being shown at Russell Sage hall and the art classroom on the second floor of the Lawrence college library under the auspices of the college. The public has been invited to see these pictures and to hear the explanatory lectures by Prof. Otho P. Fairfield of the art department at the college. The pictures were secured through the American Federation of Arts and will be shown through this week from 2:30 to 5 o'clock each afternoon at the library and at any time at Russell Sage. Prof. Fairfield will lecture at 4:15 Wednesday and Friday at the library and Thursday at Russell Sage.

The pictures are divided into two groups. Ten figures or portraits art shown at Russell Sage, and 11 landscapes and three flower and fruit studies at the library. These are valued from $300 to $2,000 each. Any of them may be purchased but the purpose of the exhibit is not for selling. It was said. All of the painters are living except one who died only last year.

This is the first exhibit of oil paintings in Appleton. Many particularly fine things are included in the landscape and still life group. They are representative works of Gardner Symonds, Frederick J. Waugh, Elmer Schofield, Walter Ufer, Anna Fisher, George Elmer Browne and Ben Foster.

"A New England Village" by Symonds, an outstanding work of one of the most famous of American painters, gives a realistic winter scene, of New England cottages and a snow covered road winding between them. Ben Foster's "Whippoorwill Hour" has bare brown trees with a patch of evergreens as contrast. A misty moon peaks over the tops of the branches and a lone whippoorwill is perched on one barren branch.

A picture of rocks and ocean by Waugh is a representative scene by

TRAUTMAN ELECTED Y'S MENS PRESIDENT

Club Members Decide Against New High School After Hearing Debate

John Trautman was elected president of the Y's Men's club to succeed Frank Sager at the regular meeting of the club Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Other officers elected were John Goodrich, first vice-president; A. W. Markman, second vice president; David Dender, third vice president; R. M. Eickmeyer, secretary; Edwin Boettcher, treasurer. A report of the first year's work of the club, which closes May 1, was read. The club has sponsored Boys' Week and Boy's Election in Appleton, and took part in the Y. M. C. A. membership campaign. ANNOUNCE GENERAL RULES FOR COUNTY FIELD, TRACK MEET

Annual Event Is Open to All Rural Schools in Outagamie-co

General rules and a list of events for the fifth annual Outagamie-co field and track meet for rural schools have been announced by A. C. McAtamney, county superintendent of schools. Although the meet will be held here in May, the exact date has not been selected.

"The meet is open to rural schools and to two-department state graded schools," Mr. McAtamney said. "Interest in the events has increased annually, and a record entry list is expected this year. We hope that every district will be represented this time."

General rules were outlined by Mr. McAtamney as follows:

A school may enter not more than one pupil in each event, except the relay races.

Each school shall hold its own play day before May 10 to choose entrants for the sectional contests.

Sectional contests shall be held May 13, at places to be selected. Program details will be announced later.

Entry blanks for county contests shall be mailed to the county superintendent of schools before May 16. No entries in track and field events will be accepted after this date.

Individual scores will be counted as follows:

First place, 5; second, 4; third, 3. The school with the highest total score will receive the Outagamie-co trophy cup awarded by the Appleton Post-Crescent.

The individual making the highest number of points will receive an Appleton Post-Crescent individual trophy cup.

Medals or badges will be given winners of first, second and third places in each event.

School having the winning relay team will be awarded a pennant.

The events will start at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, according to Mr. McAtamney. Boys' events will include the 100 yard dash, standing broad jump, running broad jump, baseball throw for accuracy and 440 yard relay race. The baseball throw has been changed from a distance test to an accuracy test. Girls' events will consist of balancing, 50 yard dash, standing broad jump, 300 yard relay race, and baseball throw for distance.

Each school is expected to prepare banners and yells for the meet, Mr. McAtamney announced. The highest school spirit, the more successful the meet, he pointed out.

The annual contest to select a county representative for the state fair spelling, arithmetic, penmanship contest will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning of the same day of the field and track meet. This contest will be conducted at the courthouse.

CINDER SHORTAGE SLOWS ROAD WORK

Street Department to Use Gravel for Most of Repair Projects

Lack of a sufficient supply of cinders and gravel again will delay road repair work in Appleton this year, according to E. F. Hackworth, street commissioner. Although a small pile of cinders was gathered last winter by the department, it will be sufficient to repair only a few streets. Attempts to get more cinders at local factories failed because most of the mills do not burn coal.

An attempt will be made to secure several hundred yards of gravel from the Menasha gravel company to carry on repair work until Frank Murphy of Little Chute can begin hauling on his unfilled contract. Mr. Murphy supplied about 600 yards on a 1,200 yard contract last fall when the work was halted by the late arrival of snow. Practically all street repair work will have to be done with gravel this year, it is believed.

FEBRUARY EXPENDITURES OF CITY TOTAL $31,115

February expenditures of the city totaled $31,115.94, according to the monthly report of E. L. Williams, city clerk. The police department required $9,002.47. Operation and maintenance of the fire department, cost $4,211.40. Street lighting cost $2,446.76. Street cleaning, $1,351.72 and street equipment, $2,029.24. The mayor and aldermen's salaries amounted to $436.05.

BUSINESS METHODS OF COLLEGES IS STUDIED

Business methods of Minnesota colleges were studied by R. J. Watts, business manager of Lawrence college, when he visited the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis, Minn., and Carleton college at Northfield, Minn., last week.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—simple—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' well-known physician in Ohio found a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Better Mornings via Breakfasts That "Stand By" You

Quaker Oats Urged Widely by Authorities

FOREMOST educators, editors as well as leading business institutions like General Electric Company, now are widely urging breakfasts that "stand by" as an important aid to success.

That's because it is now known that over 70% of the day's important work, in offices, stores, etc., falls into the four morning hours—the hours from 8:30 to 12:30.

In most American schools, including Princeton, Yale, most State Universities and some 2,000 grade schools throughout the country, 80% of the important classes are held before luncheon.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions now start days with Quaker Oats—a food that "stands by" one through the morning.

Excellent balanced in protein, carbohydrates, minerals and the important Vitamin B, this delicious food is ideal for banishing listless mornings.

Today get Quick Quaker that cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes or regular Quaker Oats at grocer's.

At first the reckonings were based on an eight-year cycle, when the changes of sun and moon more or less exactly repeat themselves. Later an eighty-four year cycle was used, until the year 457, when a cycle of 322 years was used. Ultimately the nineteen-year cycle was adopted, which accounts for the table of 223 years being referred to as twelve cycles of the moon.

APPROVE BENEFIT ASSESSMENTS FOR PAVING PROJECT

Board of Public Works Takes Another Step Toward Street Improvement

MAY PERFECT BEARDLESS BARLEY VARIETY IN WISCONSIN

DIFFICULT CROP TO HANDLE UNDER PRESENT SYSTEM

New Variety May Take Place With Oats as One of Greatest Crops in State

Madison—(P)—Experiments being carried on for the past 12 years by Prof. B. D. Leith, University of Wisconsin horticulturist, may result in the perfection of beardless barley. While such a type can now be produced, the yield is not comparable to the bearded variety, Prof. Leith explained.

"Although barley is a difficult crop to handle, it is second to corn as a stock feed," he declared. "There is not enough barley grown in Wisconsin, even though the crop is much better for rich soils than oats.

"When the beardless barley is developed, the crop will no longer be difficult to handle and it may then take a place with oats as one of the greatest crops produced in this state.

TOO MUCH OATS
"If anything, there is too great a production of oats, since nearly every farmer has a certain amount of land devoted to the crop. The output per year exceeds 100,000,000 bushels at the present time but the yield is not as valuable as barley.

A suggestion that oats and barley be sown together was also made by Prof. Leith in order to take care of seasonal fluctuations. Such a combination makes an excellent feed for cattle, he said, if planted on a fifty-fifty basis. The proportion should be diminished to about one-quarter barley when the feed is intended for horses, he said.

Local growth of barley was diminished with the enactment of the prohibition law, he stated.

"Barley production has fallen off somewhat in the past ten days," Prof. Leith said, "although there are a number of good reasons why an acreage of barley, equal to that of oats, should be produced on the heavier soils of the southern half of Wisconsin.

BIG CASH VALUE
"That the cash value per acre for barley is more than for oats in the state is shown where yields are given over a period of five years.

"An acre of barley produces more digestible protein and carbohydrates than an acre of oats. For this reason, and also because of the fact that the money value of an acre of barley is higher than oats, there is no question but that in the dairy section of the state where the soil is suitable there should be as many acres of barley grown as of oats.

"The five years average yield, for the years 1920-24 in the fifteen leading barley counties of the state, is 29.2 bushels per acre for barley and 25.2 bushels for oats. The average acre of barley produced 126.1 pounds of digestible protein and 120.3 pounds of total digestible nutrients while the average acre of oats produced 116.4 pounds of digestible protein and 114.8 pounds of total digestible nutrients. Barley produces about 10 pounds more digestible protein to the acre than oats on an average, and 276 pounds more of total digestible nutrients."

BUTTER PRICES SHOW NUMEROUS DECLINES
Lack of Buying Interest and Liberal Offerings Cause Weakness

Madison—(P)—Frequent and sometimes sharp declines in butter prices featured the markets of the week, the department of markets said in its weekly review. Other markets, the review said, were: cheese, improved trading; hogs, 25 to 60 cents decline; cattle, uneven; sheep, slaughter lamb values drop.

Lack of buying interest in butter with liberal offerings were reasons for the declines in that commodity. The review declared that "low foreign offerings dominated the market. Medium and undergrades, however, were in short supply and the spread in prices between the top and the lower grades was narrow. The market at the close was weak and supplies fairly liberal. Centralized car market was slow."

It continued: "General trading conditions in cheese have not shown much improvement. Trade was quiet with buyers operating cautiously and ordering in small lots to fill immediate requirements."

"Price declines ranging from 25 to 60 cents featured the hog market during the past week as a result of increased pork values."

"Cattle exhibited some unevenness. The loss in the market at the close was 25 to 30 cents. Weakening factors were slightly increased receipts, an erratic dressed beef trade and a strong accumulated feeling against mounting values."

"The outstanding feature of the sheep markets was the consistent reduction in slaughter lamb values resulting from a sluggish dressed trade. This factor offset the effect of sharply curtailed receipts."

"MAIL ORDER" TESTING PAYS, P. J. SCHUH FINDS
Kaukauna—Since Peter J. Schuh, route 1, joined the Outagamie county mail order cow testing association, he discovered in February a cow in his herd that was giving from 46 to 52 pounds of milk at a milking and that in thirty days produced 1,393 pounds of milk, testing 4.1 per cent that sold in a butterfat basis for $59.47.

GLASSAP DRILLS WELL

THEY'RE ALL MONEY-MAKERS

SOME OF THE PUREBRED GUERNSEYS OF THE HERD OF ALBERT PAMPFER, ROUTE 5, GREEN BAY. MR. PAMPFER CHANGED FROM SCRUB CATTLE TO PUREBRED WHEN HE FOUND THAT THE PERCENTAGE OF BUTTERFAT FROM THE FORMER WAS DISCOURAGINGLY LOW.

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer
Green Bay—Twenty years ago Albert Pampfer, route 5, started farming and the dairy business with nothing better than a herd of scrub cows, but today he has an exceptionally fine herd of purebred Guernseys.

When asked why he changed from scrub cows to purebreds, Mr. Pampfer replied: "While I had the scrub cattle my milk test was always at the creamery and I naturally was dissatisfied and decided to do better. So I had my cows tested individually, and finding one cow that tested only 2.8 and another that tested 3 per cent, I immediately disposed of both of these cows and purchased two grade Guernseys and a purebred herd sire of J. D. McAllister, near neighbor, a breeder of Guernsey cattle. I also picked up Guernsey grade heifers wherever I could find them. The result was that in five years time I had a herd of 25 grade Guernseys that was very satisfactory.

"At the time I had finished developing this herd, I belonged to a cow testing association and the first year I had the high cow test among 500 cows in the association. That cow produced 369 pounds of butterfat in a year. The herd production average was 290 pounds of butterfat."

"The close of two years in the cow testing association, I was ready to take the last step toward a purebred herd. And so I bought four purebred heifers of Nels Nelson, Black Creek, which later proved to be very satisfactory cows. I then visited sales, and picked up a number of purebred cows.

"Since I have been breeding purebreds, I have always used a herd sire with good breeding and production record behind him, and to help along, I did official testing one year with four cows on test.

"One of these cows made 422 pounds of butterfat in Class G, one 334 pounds, Class F, one 477 pounds in Class E, and one 523 pounds in Class D. This test was made under ordinary farm conditions and with nothing but feed grown on the farm. The cows were milked twice a day and never seeing a box stall, stood in stanchions throughout the days.

"I now have a herd of 38 purebreds, including 18 cows developed from the animals that were officially tested and whose production records I have just now given.

"My present herd sire is Shady Elm Major, 3 years old, bred on my farm whose dam was Pet Lady Jewett with a production record of 550 pounds of butterfat. Class F, and whose sire's dam is Lillian Glenwood Faintine that produced 633 pounds of butterfat in Class A.

"I intend to do official testing again this fall. My entire herd is registered. I sold 8 purebred bulls last year and three cows. I am now having 250 pounds of milk daily from 17 cows and sell sweet cream at an advance over the regular price.

"I selected the Guernsey breed of dairy cows because there seemed to be a strong demand in this territory for Guernsey sweet cream."

SCIENCE MAKES LIME HEALTH SAFEGUARD
Results of Wisconsin Tests to Be Demonstrated at Virginia Meeting

Madison—(P)—Lime, through science, is developing as a safeguard of public health and a tool of industry, it is asserted in an announcement of a three-day symposium, featuring work in Wisconsin, to be held in connection with the spring meeting of the American Chemical Society in Richmond, Va., beginning April 13.

Results of tests carried out in Wisconsin will be reported to the symposium by L. F. Warwick of the state board of health, Madison. A delegation will attend from the Wisconsin section of the society of which Prof. Farrington Daniels of the University of Wisconsin is chairman.

More than a score of addresses and papers will be delivered by industrialists and chemists from all over the country.

An annual production of five million tons of lime is made at nearly $100,000 in Wisconsin, opening up new fields for chemical science affecting the water supply of cities, disposal of industrial wastes to prevent pollution of streams, and the extension of lime, now reaching the processes of 115 industries to the sanitation systems of states and cities.

"The saving in soap alone in a typical medium-sized city would amount to $500 a day if $150 was expended daily in municipal water softening," is the assertion attributed by the sponsors of the symposium to Dr. W. M. Barr, water service engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad.

"A survey by railway water service engineers showed that saving resulting from softening of the locomotive water supplies on a number of roads ranged from $1,500 to $8,000 for each locomotive a year."

LIQUID WEED-KILLER CONDEMNED BY EXPERT
Liquid weed killers which appeared on the markets of Wisconsin under trade names have been tested by the university department of agronomy and found unsatisfactory according to A. L. Stone who made the investigation for the department.

The weed killer was found to be merely a solution of sodium arsenite to which a small quantity of aniline dye had been added.

Mr. Stone prepared a solution of sodium arsenite and compared it with the material advertised at a price of $3 per gallon. He found that the sodium arsenite solution costing only 25 cents per gallon was fully as effective as the commercial solution which had been advertised, but that neither gave satisfaction from the standpoint of weed destruction.

PLOWING STARTED IN BROWN, OUTAGAMIE-COS
Plowing has already started in Outagamie and Brown counties with horse and tractor plows. Norman Mills, was reported as out his field plowing on Wednesday, March 16, and Frank Louden, on Friday, March 18. Several tractors were out plowing along Highway 15, in Brown county, Saturday, March 19.

FEDERAL FIGHT TO CHECK CORN BORER PEST IS UNDER WAY

Infested area in Five States Includes About 60 Million Acres, Report Shows

"The $10,000,000 campaign to delay the spread of the European corn borer to the Corn Belt recently authorized by congress, began March 14," says the United States Department of Agriculture.

"The purpose of the campaign is to clean-up the borer as far as possible in the infested area and to prevent serious damage to the corn crop in Illinois, Iowa and other corn belt states. The first step to be taken in the campaign will be to notify farmers of the necessary measures which they must take according to the regulations adopted. Where the regulations have not been complied with either intentionally or otherwise, the Federal forces under of the State departments of agriculture will conduct the necessary cleanup. Prior to May 1, a large number of local field demonstrations in the southeastern and central states will be given as part of an intensive educational and publicity campaign. The campaign will be under the direction of Dr. A. F. Woods, director of scientific work, United States Department of Agriculture.

Below are the plans of the United States Department of Agriculture in the campaign against the corn borer: "The United States Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the five states of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Indiana, will conduct the campaign. The infested area is largely in these states and now include about 60,000,000 acres. The appropriation will be used to compensate farmers for work done by them in connection with the clean-up of normal corn used in ordinary farm operations and to purchase and operate such machinery and supply equipment as is required in carrying out control measures thoroughly in the counties designated.

"In the cleanup, the cornstalks ethereal will be gathered and destroyed. The plan is to pay the farmers for work that is done over and above their normal farming operations at a rate not to exceed $2 per acre for field corn and not to exceed $1 per acre for sweet corn.

EXPLAIN NECESSARY STEPS
"The first step to be taken in the campaign will be to notify farmers of the necessary measures which they must take according to the regulations adopted. It is expected that individual farmers voluntarily cooperating in the clean-up will take the necessary measures by May 1. Following May 1, all infested farms will be inspected. If reported as meeting all requirements as to control measures, the individual farmers will be compensated by the regulation.

"Where the regulations have not been complied with either intentionally or unintentionally, the Federal State of agriculture will conduct the clean-up. The farm cost of such enforced clean-up will be charged to the individuals on whose farms the work is done and will be collected on the same basis as taxes by the state authorities.

"Prior to May 1, a large number of field demonstrations in the selection and operation of machinery effective in borer control work will be given as a part of an intensive educational and publicity campaign to be put on cooperatively by the department extension service, the extension divisions of the state agricultural colleges and the county agents. This campaign will consist of educational field meetings, activities of county and local committees in the interest of voluntary clean-up of the borer, supplying information to the press, and the distribution of educational material through extension forces."

MOST GRANDPARENTS

KISS AND DIE
San Francisco—Members of the medical profession here have issued a warning that there are just as many beats in every human heart and it's up to the individual to spend them as he chooses. The average heart, they say, beats 1,545,264,000 times in a lifetime. Excitement, such as kissing, increases the rate from normal 70 to about 90. Thus a single kiss would shorten life by nearly three minutes.

Twelve Corners Mills
Twelve Corners—A feed mill, saw mill and lumber and log piles are of considerable interest to the farmers of this vicinity and to a number of working men. The feed mill has run three days a week the entire winter. It has a capacity of a bag of ground feed a minute. Farmers haul their corn, their oats and barley here to be ground, and to the saw mill with a capacity of 8,000 feet of lumber a day they haul their logs to be sawed into boards, planks, rafters or square timbers, to be used in new building or the repairing of old buildings.

For the past 16 years, the output of the saw mill each year has been on the increase, but this year it has shown a decrease, owing to the fact that the swamps were not frozen hard enough to carry the teams and the usual number of loads of logs. However, the mill has already been operating 26 days this season. The feed mill has been in operation 26 years.

Three men are employed in the feed mill and eight men in the saw mill. Both are owned and managed by Fred Vick.

Mackville—Lynn Root, formerly of Medina, now occupying the one known as the Stadler farm, recently finished drilling a well on his farm. The drilling was done by Jacob Koss, Appleton.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, rich food, our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent litha-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Good work produces happiness all around. Good plumbing brings to a home the sanitation and the modern conveniences that makes for family amity and advancement.

Merchandising of Products Improved by New Warehouse
Milwaukee Terminal is Modern, Dry and Cold Storage Building

Madison—(P)—More orderly merchandising of Wisconsin farm products will result from the establishment and bonding of the Milwaukee Terminal warehouse, according to the state department of markets.

Citing the recent bonding of the warehouse, one of the largest in the northwest, as being a forward step in agricultural marketing, department officials expressed the belief that the central location of the warehouse and its accessibility to shippers would assure the rapid growth of the plant.

"The consummation of the plan," a report from the department said, "marks the realization of the hopes of the department, the object sought being a greater degree of stability or agricultural marketing in Wisconsin."

Plans were worked out under the supervision of W. P. Jones, marketing specialist of the department, while the bonding of the warehouse was taken care of by C. N. Pulley, bond specialist.

The new Milwaukee terminal is a modern, dry and cold storage warehouse located on the main line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. It has track facilities allowing twelve cars to be unloaded at one time. It is also located on the Milwaukee river so that the shippers of Wisconsin products can take advantage of water transportation to eastern ports. The bonding of the warehouse by the department makes it possible to issue warehouse receipts to depositors of all kinds of farm products.

Mr. Jones also pointed out the advantages of having a warehouse on direct route to market for Wisconsin farm products. Such products can be sent to the warehouse in small quantities and the producer will reap the benefits of boatload rates. Since Milwaukee is 100 per cent, so far as freight rates are concerned, there will be no additional transportation costs involved in handling these products and back-hauling will be avoided.

ANOTHER WAR SCARE

Dispatches from Berlin, Vienna, Belgrade and Rome say another war cloud is hanging over Europe, this time involving Jugo-Slavia and Italy. Italy is reported as having asked the intercession of Germany to restrain an alleged aggressive policy by Jugo-Slavia against Albania. The appeal is made to Germany because her foreign minister is at the head of the council of the League of Nations. Italy charges that Jugo-Slavia is mobilizing troops at the Albanian frontier in contemplation of an attack on her weak neighbor, and as a challenge of Italian influence there. As is the usual case with most war flurries in Europe, this one doubtless is exaggerated and will soon peter out. London does not take it seriously, and what fails to excite England should not greatly disturb the rest of Europe.

Albania has been described as the "open wound of the Balkans." While she received her freedom as a result of the World war and escaped the tyranny of Turkey and the encroachment of other nations, at least for a time, she has not yet consolidated her nationalism and remains a house divided against itself. The government which has been set up is constantly menaced by mountain tribes, who are a liability where they should be an asset to the nation. Albania has no navy and very few soldiers; consequently she is at the mercy of any hostile nation. When she started housekeeping for herself she needed both protection and money. Jugo-Slavia could or would do little for her, and Italy promptly appeared as the big brother. The result was the negotiation of the recent Tirana pact, which grants Italy a virtual protectorate over Albania. Italy, therefore, has placed herself in a position where she has a legal right to maintain a close watch on her rival for control of the Adriatic, and to see that Jugo-Slavia takes nothing from Albania to her detriment.

It is of no concern to Albania who dominates the Adriatic. She has no racial, commercial or traditional choice between Italy and Jugo-Slavia. What she is looking for is security and assistance. Italy, on the contrary, appears to have a very definite Near Eastern policy, including the Balkans, Turkey and eastern Africa. It is Italy's well-known colonial aspirations that excite Europe every time she makes a move or utters a threat in the foreign field. There is a strong feeling that Italy will go a long way in intrigue and bluff to advance her expansion program, but that she is not going to provoke war.

On paper, the situation is this: France is the ally of Jugo-Slavia, using her to thwart Italian designs in the Balkans. Ever since Sir Austen Chamberlain's visit to Italy it is generally accepted that Great Britain is supporting the Italian policy. It is said that she has approved the Italian note on Albania and will support Italy even at the displeasure of France. Out of this conflict of interests, the correspondents of American newspapers in Europe draw a graphic picture of impending war. Certain continental newspapers and politicians do the same. During the Mosul and Iraq controversies these same paper strategists brewed a war between Turkey and Great Britain, involving other nations, but it did not materialize. Other "wars" of the sort have been drawn out of French aims and acts in Palestine, rivalry between Greece and Turkey, France and England and between Italy, France and Greece, but somehow nothing happens. It may be that Europe is laying the wood for a fresh conflagration and that the old rivalries and intrigues for balances of power will eventually lead to war. Such a fatalistic view, however, is not conclusive.

There is still some common sense left among the great powers, and with Germany in the League it is materially strengthened. Russia is the real danger point. So long as she is out of the League, nothing can be absolutely secure.

Coming back to the present incident, the truth doubtless is that Jugo-Slavia has no designs on Albania, and no intention of provoking trouble with Albania's suzerain lord. We should give Jugo-Slavian statesmanship and politics credit for more sagacity than that, and of better counsel from her chief European friend and adviser, France.

Every so often Mussolini has to brandish the sword. He knows he is doing it safely in this instance, but the gesture may impress Europe with the belief that he gains a point at the expense of Jugo-Slavia and the enhancement of his prestige. If this is the net result of the flourish, Il Duce will be satisfied.

SIGNS OF PEACE IN CHINA

The Cantonese have taken Shanghai. The victory was achieved without great loss of life, due largely to desertions within the ranks of the northerners and the lack of a sufficient army to give battle on a big scale. The occupation of Shanghai has appeared all along to be the inevitable result of the sledge-hammer drive of Chiang Kai-Shek northward. It would seem that the foreign interests at Shanghai are sufficiently well protected by the earlier precautions taken by their governments, and that the troops available and landed of Great Britain, Japan and the United States will prevent a dangerous anti-foreign outbreak. If the Cantonese are wise, they will refrain from acts of hostility toward the foreign quarter; in fact they will go further than this and immediately guarantee its safety. The taking of Shanghai seems to forecast the dissolution of the northern army and the eclipse of Chang, Tso-Lin, the Manchurian war lord and present ruler of Peking. The success of the southern army and the rapid conversion of the Chinese people to the program of the Kuomintang for the first time offers the prospect of a unified China. There are those who view this outcome with misgivings, on the ground that the Kuomintang is under the domination of Soviet Russia, and that ultimately it will attempt to set up bolshevik government in China. It is true that the Cantonese has assistance, both by arms and military advisers, from the Russians, but there is difference of opinion as to how far propaganda for the soviet system has been effective. Some authorities on China are gravely apprehensive that the Cantonese government will fall for bolshevism, while others take a contrary view.

The great thing is to have established in China united and responsible government. Nations with extensive interests there must take their chances on the character and tendencies of that government. They are ready to negotiate with any government in which they have confidence the revision of treaties, the practical abolition of extra-territoriality, the bringing of their concessions under Chinese direction and the granting of control over customs and the right to enact a protective tariff. A communistic China might attempt to persecute foreigners and might under Russian instigation undertake reprisal against foreign concessions, but that would be cutting off the nose to spite the face. Foreign capital, foreign initiative and foreign co-operation are needed for the development and advancement of China, and a wise and balanced government will recognize the fact and govern its policies accordingly. The truth is that Great Britain and Japan are more afraid of Russia in the future than of China herself. The United States is afraid of neither, realizing that Bolshevism would be hopeless and disastrous, and defeat entirely the setting up of a free and national China.

OLD MASTERS

On a starred night Prince Lucifer uprose. Tired of his dark dominion among the fiends Above the rolling ball in cloud part screened, Where sinners hugged their spectre of repose. Poor prey to his hot fit of pride were those. And now upon his western wing he leaned, Now his huge bulk o'er Africa's sands careened, Now the black planet shadowed Arctic snows. Soaring through wilder zones that pricked his fears. With memory of the old revolt from Awe, He reached a middle height, and at the stars. Which are the brain of Heaven, he looked and sank. Around the ancient track marched, rank on rank, The army of unalterable law.

WILL SOME ONE KINDLY SUBMIT A PLAN
The first 20 years are the hardest. But here and now I do solemnly aver, avow, affirm and alliterate that progress in the campaign against the great "cold" delusion is dishearteningly slow. As nearly as I can see, the general run of doctors and health officers are sitting exactly where they sat when we started the drive, viz., on the fence. Depending upon the direction and force of the prevailing wind, they hop down on this side now and again on the other side for the purpose of gentlemanly discussion, but as soon as the immediate emergency is over they hop right up on the fence again.

Have you ever tested your marksmanship on one of these silent cops with hemispherical bases? You may down him easily enough, but the moment you are away he is right up again. It is discouraging indeed.

Let us review the situation and endeavor to find inspiration to carry on.

(1) In the textbooks of pathology, medicine and hygiene published 20 years ago the theory of exposure to cold and wet was given first place in the causation of coryza and other respiratory diseases. Today this theory is assigned an unimportant position, the main cause being bacterial infection.

(2) Notwithstanding the indefatigable efforts of our constituted health authorities to warn the people to beware whenever it turns cold, warm or wet, it seems to me that more and more intelligent people are becoming quite recklessly about that, particularly the feminine population.

(3) According to the old fogies the women are naturally more vulnerable to "exposure" than are we "stronger" men. Yet in spite of their greater recklessness about baring their chests, shins, et cetera to the cold winds today have absolutely and relatively less pneumonia and bronchitis than ever before, as far as statistical records show.

(4) In the ordinary walks of life one meets more and more people who are nearly or quite convinced that there is no harm in getting cold or wet.

(5) Vilhjalmur Stefansson's "The Friendly Arctic," (6) The striking free from alleged "colds" observed by our soldiers while they were in the trenches in France.

(7) A rather timid yet manifest disposition on the part of some physicians and health authorities to question the hackneyed theory of "lowered resistance."

(8) A nation-wide "study" launched with considerable noise two or three years ago by the federal public health service, the American Medical association, and various quassible health organizations or institutions for the avowed purpose of finding out what really is the cause of the so called "common cold."

(9) The alarming silence which that expedition has maintained since it set out.

(10) The recent launching of a similar expedition by the American Chemical society or some such body for the avowed purpose of finding out what really is the cause of the so called "common cold." These drug manufacturers pretend they are in ignorance of the expedition which preceded them by two years. Can it be that they hope to discover and rescue the stranded and disheartened members of the earlier expedition?

(11) A letter I received from a young lady who says her mother advises her to dress to suit her own comfort at all times. With a couple dozen methods like that behind me I'd dare to defy the shade of Pinkie Lydham!

(12) Laboratory experiments calculated to prove that exposure to cold and wet makes an animal more susceptible (less "resistant") to infection with a germ which causes snuffles in animals, have not yielded positive results. The animals fail to conform to the theory.

These considerations would contain some cheer for us if they meant anything to the medical authorities and the health authorities in general. Will some one kindly suggest how we ought to carry on the battle for the next 20 years?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Schools Dodge It

I have been using an antiseptic soap but it doesn't seem to prevent pimples. . . . (H. C. E.)

Answer—It is really a shame that the public and private schools so carefully avoid instruction in the rudiments of physiology and hygiene. If you had received the instruction which every fifth grade pupil should receive you would know that soap is good, and it is sufficient to wash with it without any mysterious additions or highly colored and extremely expensive "literature." The schools dodge all this for the very good reason that the schools are controlled by the aggressive proprietary interests, through political activity, while the plain people sit back and wonder what it's all about.

Marriage licenses were issued to H. D. Nelson of Deer Creek and Annie Anderson of Deer Creek; E. Otto Schweiger of Seymour and Maude May Smith of Seymour; and to Edith Allen, Ind., and Theodore Schweiger of Seymour.

Miss H. Gardner, a teacher in the sixth ward school, submitted to an operation that morning at St. Elizabeth hospital for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kreiss and daughter Geraldine visited at Oshkosh the previous day.

The preliminary contest to select speakers for the league contest at Oshkosh in April was to be held Friday night at the Ryan high school under the auspices of the Athletic club.

Mrs. E. J. Stansbury was to spend a week in Milwaukee visiting friends.

The Lawrence University Mandolin and Glee club left that afternoon on a two weeks' tour of the southern part of the state. Fourteen concerts were to be given.

TEN YEARS AGO

Tuesday, March 20, 1917

President Wilson was expected to outline the real state of relations between the United States and Germany within the next 24 hours, his next immediate step, in preparing the people of the country for possible—even probable—hostilities. A state of war then existed between the United States and the Imperial government.

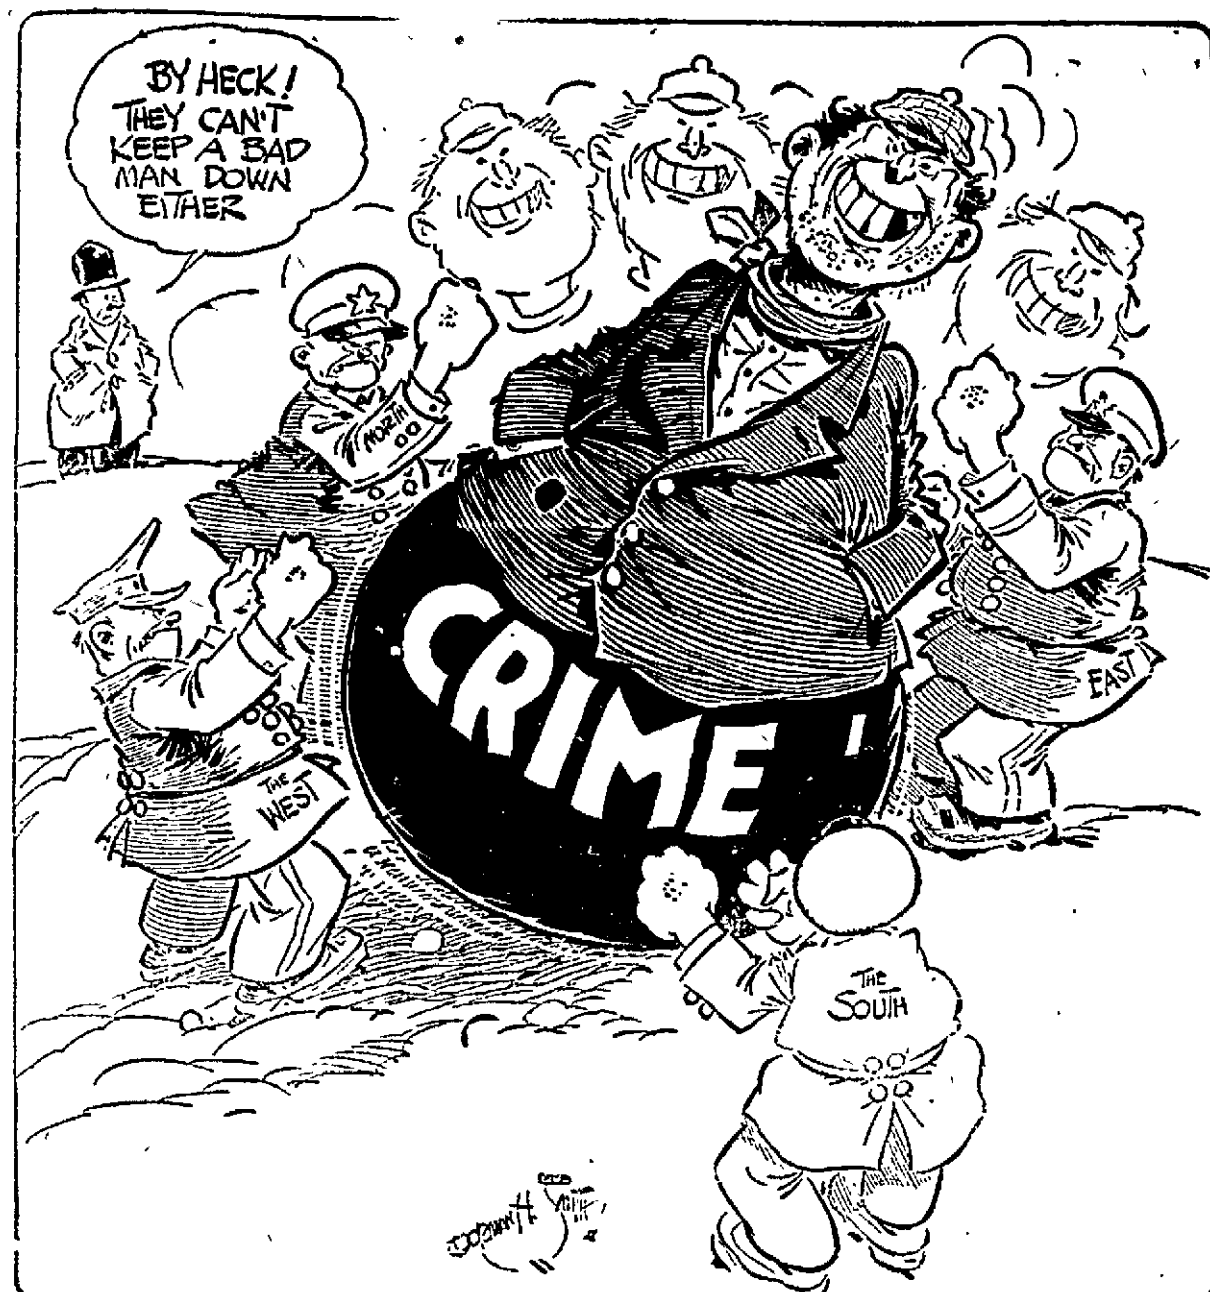

A son was born the previous night to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Quella, Lawrence-st.

Marriage licenses were issued the previous Saturday at Menominee to Howard Campbell of Green Bay and Estella Larsen of Appleton. The couple was to reside at Neenah.

Because the residents of Sherman-pl and the city commission could not agree as to the width of the street, no payment was to be laid in Sherman-pl that summer. The city commission advocated a street 21 feet wide but the residents contended that a 20 foot street would be wide enough to serve the traffic.

Three Appleton men, Gustave Keller, G. Langstadt and John Goodland, Jr., were at Green Bay the previous evening where they attended a reception in honor of former Congressman Thomas K. Ryan, who after three years' absence returned from Washington after completing six years as representative of the Sixth district.

LIBRARY ADVENTURES

By Arnold Mulder

IMPORTANCE IN LITERATURE

Elmer Davis contributes an article to "The Saturday Review of Literature" in which he practically says that the artist in fiction has no business writing about spiritually impotent people. He contrasts "Sorrell and Son," Warwick Deering with "The Sun Also Rises," by Ernest Hemingway. The hero in "Sorrell and Son" is a kind of English go-getter who triumphs over enough disasters to keep five average men busy; the hero of "The Sun Also Rises" and all the other people in the book are what we call "quitters."

So Elmer Davis makes the amazing assertion that because in life it is more admirable to fight it out with adversity than to "curl up and quit," it is more admirable for the novelist to write about those who fight it out than about those who quit. He makes it even stronger. He points out that in life all biology is against the people who quit; they disappear from the earth and said is inherited by the people who fight. Perfectly true, but it does not at all follow that the "fossil remains of the characters who quit will some day be collected and catalogued and preserved in museums, by the descendants of the people of Mr. Warwick Deering."

Seldom has an analogy been more deceptive. The people in real life who fight it out survive as a class or caste in accordance with the immutable biological law that operates in all nature; the animal that does not defend itself and make a fight for life disappears from the earth. But characters in a book are not subject to biological law. They do not begot children and they do not propagate. They have exactly as much chance to survive as a species as have the go-getter characters, provided their authors have vitality and are not impotent. The biological law of survival applies to authors, not to characters.

Take the two books mentioned. "Sorrell and Son" is a fairly good novel but even its greatest admirers will hardly claim that it is a great book. "The Sun Also Rises" may not be great in the sense that it is of the very first rank but I do not hesitate to say that it is immeasurably greater than "Sorrell and Son." What ever may be true biologically of the two authors, on the basis of these two books, it is safe to say that Ernest Hemingway has far greater literary vitality than Warwick Deering. "The spirit that makes a man stand up against work and hard luck," is the spirit of survival, Elmer Davis says in contrasting the characters of the two books. Exactly, and on he evidence of these two books Ernest Hemingway has more of "the spirit that makes a man stand up against hard work" than Warwick Deering. A book like "Sorrell and Son" could be produced with a reasonably small amount of hard work; "The Sun Also Rises" shows that the author is able to stand up under the hardest kind of labor.

Hence, if the ability and willingness to fight makes for biological survival, Ernest Hemingway has fully as much chance to survive as Warwick Deering. And if Ernest Hemingway and all writers like him survive, that type of fiction—"the fiction of impotence"—will survive and its fossil remains will not some day be catalogued in museums by the descendants of the people of Warwick Deering. The analogy to biology is absurd.

Why shouldn't a novelist write about impotent characters as well as about go-getters? We have no right to restrict his field of choice. All we have a right to do is demand that he shall do well what he sets out to do. It would be foolish to encourage the propagation in life of the feeble-minded but that does not debar a novelist from portraying feeble-minded people. Provided he does it well, he may draw as many of them as he pleases.

The idea voiced by Elmer Davis is heard again and again. Some critics object forever to characters that are spineless. They argue that "An American Tragedy" is a poor novel because Clyde Griffith, its main character, is a moral jellyfish. What of it, if he is? Dreiser set out to portray a jellyfish. Did he do it well or not is the question we can legitimately ask. But many argue that the better he does it the poorer the book is. In Milton the devil is a "better" character than God, because better drawn.

IN A SKYSCRAPER

New York City—Reduced to the simplest figures, here is the material that goes into the construction of a 26-story skyscraper: 4,300 tons of elevator steel, 1,500,000 face brick, 106 miles of electric cable, 40,000 feet of elevator cable, 2,000,000 pounds of cement, 5,000,000 pounds of sand, 500,000 square feet of wire reinforcement, 70,000 square feet of glass.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

WHEN NATURE PLAYED A JOKE

BY ARTHUR N. PACK

President, American Nature Ass'n. One of nature's queerest creatures lives in Australia, Tasmania and Papua.

It has been known to naturalists since 1793, and it must have given those learned gentlemen quite a jolt to classify it, for it is a mammal, but it lays eggs. It has cheek pouches like a chipmunk and yet has the nature of a fish. When irritated it grows like a puppy, but its feet are webbed. It has a bill like a duck and yet teeth to chew its food. Beside all of these inconsistencies it feeds its young like a mammal.

The naturalists bestowed upon it the impressive name of ornithorhynchus antipodum, but its common and popular name is the duck-billed platypus and it is usually called the duck mole.

The duck mole passes most of its life in the water where it swims and dives with the greatest ease. It feeds upon aquatic insects, small crustaceans, and worms, which it secures by poking around among the roots of aquatic plants with its bill, turning over stones and digging into the sand with this handy implement.

The food is stored away in its capacious cheek pouches until a good square meal has been collected, and then this food is chewed with the four bony prominences which replace its only true teeth—its baby teeth—which it loses before maturity.

The adult duck moles are about 29 inches long, with a six-inch tail, the head of the platypus family being larger than his spouse. They are quiet, gentle and neighborly with others of their kind. They have two coats of fur: a coarse brown outer coat, tipped with silver, and a very fine soft grayish inner fur similar to the otter or seal.

In their native haunts they are timid and wary and are seldom seen outside of their burrows in the daytime, but sleep their time away curled up like balls. Their burrows are built in the banks of rivers, with two entrances, one below the surface of the water and the other about a foot above. They extend about 15 feet, but have been known to reach 50 feet in length.

The burrow terminates in a chamber which is carpeted with dry aquatic plants, making a soft cozy nest for the baby duck moles. There are hatched from eggs which are about three-fourths of an inch in length and are soft shelled.

See-Sawing On Broadway

By Gilbert Swan

New York—Remember the "get-a-night" of the old-fashioned circus? And how the seats began to come down almost out from under you even before the "concert and big act show"?

Well, that's a pretty good picture of what happens to the poor egg caught at 9:15 or thereabouts in a Broadway supper club, where the covert charge goes into effect at 10 o'clock.

"Long about 9 o'clock the orchestra disappears in the general direction of the hors d'oeuvres. This, if you are initiate, is the signal for diners to start making their exit.

The place has been crowded with the $2.50 dinner guests. And those unfortunate who straggled about $30 have heard a couple of entertainers thump a piano and, perhaps have squeezed in one dance.

Suddenly in the back corners of the cafe, tables are yanked about and chairs hauled forward. As fast as diners leave their tables the changing about of chairs and tables goes on. It's all very simple: they want the cafe cleared out, if possible well before the evening's covert charge hour strikes; they want to clean up and rearrange. The average visitor grows self-conscious, timid and worried and, of course, flees.

Just one block from Washington Square we came upon the last word the other day. It is a sign announcing to the world: "Ye Drug 'hoppers.' Just a couple of months ago it was told of the coming of the "butcher shoppe." When we encounter a "news-paper shoppe" it will be unanimous.

Karl Kitcher, Broadway columnist, has produced the wisest crack these old ears have heard in many a day: A ham actor, having hit hard luck, was soled a fellow professional.

"Well," advised the first. "The worm will turn."

"What the devil difference does that make. It's the same on both sides."

Seen about town: Peggy Joyce driving along Broadway in the gorgeous Italian car that was being made for Rudolph Valentino at the time of his death. . . . Don't know where she got it or how much it cost. . . .

Also I hear that many would boast they have possessed it. . . . Maloney, whose name suddenly flared up in fistic circles, being ogled by a vast mob in a Broadway night club. . . . Fighters certainly get the mob in this man's town. . . . Raymond Barthele, who has one of the world's strangest jobs. . . .

He collects ancient armors for rich gentlemen who go in for such collections. . . . Odd enough, he comes from an ancient line of armorers. . . . Back in the fourteenth century his grandfathers constructed suits of mail for the warriors.

WHO WILL SETTLE SENATE CASE OF ORGANIC AILMENT?

Dr. Hawes Is More Modern,
But Senators Prefer Dr.
Norris

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Washington—Now that the Senate generally admits that it is suffering from an organic ailment, sometimes called filibuster, it will have to decide whether to take treatment from Dr. Hawes or Dr. Norris.

Following the adjournment of Congress, since die, after the patient's infirmity had been plainly exposed to the public gaze and after even the patient himself had admitted that something apparently was wrong, the loudest recommendations were for the Hawes treatment.

Outside experts seem to be in more or less accord that Dr. Hawes will get the case and that he will prescribe rigorous treatment which the patient will follow religiously, even though it kills him.

But your correspondent, being acquainted with the patient, begs to suggest that the case is more likely to go to Dr. Norris, the old family doctor.

Of course there is no question about the diagnosis. The trouble is that the poor fellow, on the most embarrassing occasions, sometimes completely loses control of his tongue. He jabbers of this, that and the other thing, all day and all night, and for the painful duration of this malady—the medical term for which is filibuster—he is unable to move hand or foot. And by the time he gets over it, he frequently finds that he has let his business affairs go all to pot and that people are laughing at him.

Now the objection to Dr. Charles G. Hawes is that he favors a "kill or cure" method. The patient would be forcibly gagged.

Dr. Hawes is one of these smart dapper young city fellows, and has been in town only a couple of years. Recently quite a few folks have come to the conclusion that he has a distinct edge on the old-fashioned general practitioner, Dr. George W. Norris.

But some of the old-timers are suspicious of his new-fangled ways. They say the patient was gagged with three or four cloutures this spring and now look at him. Worse than ever!

Dr. Norris, on the other hand, has grown up with the town. He came here goodness knows how many years ago from Nebraska and has built up a good, solid practice. He has treated the patient in question for various ailments in the past, and the patient has survived. He is kind and gentle and abhors the rough stuff to which Dr. Hawes is addicted. He calls a common cold a cold, instead of coryza, he hasn't invented any new diseases, and his fees are moderate.

Neither does he violate the ethics of his profession by publicly advertising himself and his cures as Dr. Hawes has done ever since his arrival here.

What Dr. Norris says is that if the patient were taught to realize that nothing was to be gained by his incessant tongue-clacking, he wouldn't have any more of it. The patient is proposed, in a constitutional amendment passed three times by the Senate, to abolish the short session and bring in a new Congress on the January after its election. He points out that a case of filibuster is quite harmless to the patient except during a short session.

By passing the Norris measure, the Senate has indicated that it knows what is good for it and that it prefers the Norris medicine. The trouble is that the chief pharmacist of the House of Representatives drugstore has refused thus far to mix the dose, although most congressmen favor it. Nevertheless, the patient is hardly likely just now to desert the old family doctor just so that he can be gagged or have his tongue amputated. Some day the House will mix and deliver the medicine, whereas the Hawes cure, he suspects, is worse than the disease.

FORESTER SUPERVISOR RETURNS TO HIS WORK

Louis T. Duffey, district supervisor of the Catholic Order of Foresters association, has returned to his work after several months leave of absence because of ill health. He will spend a few days in Appleton conferring with Gustave Keller, Sr., high treasurer of the order, and with officers of the local court.

Mr. Duffey plans to spend a month working with group No. 5 which includes Two Rivers, Manitowish, Sheboygan, Cato, Parnell and Maple Grove.

WANT CHAMBER TO HELP IN FIRE PREVENTION

Appleton chamber of commerce has asked to cooperate in fire prevention and cleanup week, the third week in April, in a letter from T. H. Fleming, chairman of the committee on fire prevention and cleanup of the National Fire Prevention association. The week is established for the proper disposal of refuse which becomes a fire hazard unless disposed, Mr. Fleming said.

It helps to eliminate health hazards both in buildings and vacant lots and improve the beauty of the city, besides cutting down fire hazards, the letter said.

SOPHOMORES MAY GIVE SCHOOL STAGE CURTAIN

An assembly stage curtain to be given to Appleton high school by the sophomore class was suggested by Clement Ketchum, chairman of the class sponsors, at a class meeting this week. It has been the custom of the class to give an American flag to the school, but it was felt there were enough flags.

The cost of a curtain, about $150, would be too much for the class to spend in one year, Mr. Ketchum said, but it was thought other organizations might be induced to help or the project could be carried on into another

COAL STRIKE MAY MEAN END OF UNION

College Man Tells Lions That Another Strike Will End in Disaster

The coal strike which impends on April 1 to force a renewal of the Jacksonville or interstate agreement cannot fail, because of the immense potential capacity of the non-union field, to end in disaster and the probable destruction of the union, William A. McConagha, associate professor of economics at Lawrence college, said in an address on the coal situation at a meeting of the Lions club at the Conway hotel Monday noon. "There has been a great reluctance to sign the union scale throughout Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois because operators cannot pay the union scale and complete with non-union Kentucky and West Virginia."

"When one appreciates that for every ton of coal the American people consume directly they must pay for tea others that are consumed indirectly, the verdict of John Hay's Hammon of the United States Coal commission to the effect that the coal industry was the worst managed he had ever seen, has some significance," the speaker said.

"The basic difficulty was well expressed in an address to the president when they asserted 'They have opened three mines where two are needed. They have employed three men where two are necessary.' As a consequence we are maintaining an idle labor reserve in the mining industry of 200,000 men and an idle mining capacity in excess of 200,000,000 tons."

"It is out of this over-expansion with its tendency to exploit both mines and miners, the United Mine workers have arisen. Their collective agreements in the Central Competitive field have been the one stabilizing influence in the industry."

Rotary clubs of Oshkosh, Manitowish, Two Rivers and Fond du Lac have been invited to attend the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the local club at the Masonic temple here on Saturday evening, April 2. All clubs of the Tenth district, which includes upper Wisconsin and Northern Michigan had been invited to the affair, but the four clubs in the neighboring city are not included in the district and were given a special invitation.

Harlowe Clark of Marquette, Mich., present governor of the Tenth district, Lee C. Rasey, former governor, and now at Minneapolis, Minn., James Crouch of Waukegan, present governor of the Thirteenth district and Herbert Ladin of Milwaukee, past governor of the Thirteenth district will attend the celebration, according to Joseph Koffend, Jr., president of the local club.

Harry Rogers of San Antonio, Tex., president of Rotary International will be the guest of honor at the banquet.

Feet Are as Varied as Faces

No. 8

This is one of a series of twenty illustrated advertisements explaining the difference between the many types of feet, and suggesting the proper foot-wear for each.

The Ball of the Foot

Among the difficult cases that confront the shoe salesman in fitting is the enlarged ball under the great toe joint, it being the leverage point in walking. Much depends on the proper preparation of the sole in order to accommodate the enlarged ball.

Shoes must be chosen which consider the abnormal, extra-sensitive ball; often arch supports will give great relief. Yet each case of this sort must be diagnosed and treatment suggested according to individual needs.

Novelty salespeople have studied feet; they know how to fit shoes so that you may enjoy complete comfort and resulting better general health.

Kaukauna—The Kaukauna Advancement association will hold its next meeting at 7:30 Wednesday evening, March 30, in the council chambers of the Municipal administration building. Final reports on the Mid-Winter fair will be given at the time. In speaking of the fair, Mr. Prugh said he believed he was well rewarded for the time he put into the fair. Although the number of exhibits was somewhat disappointing, he believed it was because farmers didn't get to the city over the bad roads. If the roads were in good condition this year's fair would have been larger than any previous one, Mr. Prugh said. The fair wound up in great style, he continued, with the attendance on the last night equal to the attendance of any night of previous fairs.

NAVIGATION CO. BOATS ON FIRST TRIP DOWN RIVER

Active Traffic on Fox River Will Get Under Way in Few Days, Prugh Says

Kaukauna—Navigation on the Fox river opened Monday morning and the George D. Ryan and the Jane passed through the locks picking up materials and supplies for the season. Both boats wintered in the channel below the third lock. The Ryan and the Jane left for Green Bay Tuesday morning with two barges and are expected back up the river Thursday. "It always takes several days after navigation to get things started," Mr. Prugh said, "and by the end of the week the boats will make their regular trips."

The navigation company asked the government for permission to start river traffic earlier this year than usual because of the urgent need of coal and the government opened navigation when it was found that the ice was out of the river. Mr. Prugh said the snow that fell early this week would not hamper navigation in any way and that the boats would only stop operating if the channel freezes over again, which is highly improbable.

The government tugs Menasha and Wolf are in the channel but neither of the boats will move for a few days yet. The barges in the canal above the first lock were taken down-stream Tuesday morning.

Present bridge tenders are, Lawest, John Nelson and Charles Walquist and Wisconsin-ave, Hiram O'Dell and William Alger.

179 EXAMINED BY CLINIC DOCTORS

113 Adults and 66 Babies Inspected by Physicians During Midwinter Fair

Kaukauna—One of the biggest successes of the recent Mid-winter fair held in this city was the health clinic conducted on the second floor of the municipal administration building. In the two days 113 adults and 66 babies were taken care of, making a total of 179 examinations. Of this number 20 were found to have pulmonary infection. Miss Mattie J. Hayes, city nurse, stated that it did not mean that those affected had tuberculosis but the infection generally led to that. Several cases were recommended to Riverview sanatorium. The others will be under the observation of Miss Hayes and Miss Fox, sanatorium nurse, who will do follow-up work. Miss Hayes said doctors in charge of clinic were busy from morning to night with the examinations. Dr. C. D. Boyd was the supervising doctor at the clinic and was assisted by Doctors Pletny, Hedding and Drake of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association.

Final reports on the Mid-Winter fair will be given at the time. In speaking of the fair, Mr. Prugh said he believed he was well rewarded for the time he put into the fair. If the roads were in good condition this year's fair would have been larger than any previous one, Mr. Prugh said. The fair wound up in great style, he continued, with the attendance on the last night equal to the attendance of any night of previous fairs.

RAY SCHALK INJURES FINGER IN GAME AT WICHITA FALLS

New White Sox Leader Placed On Casualty List By Blow From Foul Tip

Major League Teams Begin to Find Batting Eyes in Training Camps

Manager Ray Schalk, who will both manage and backstop for the Chicago White Sox this year, was temporarily put on the casualty list in the Sox exhibition game against Wichita Falls, Texas Monday when a foul tip tore the nail of one of his fingers. Aaron Ward broke up the game in the eighth with a single when the bases were crowded, the Sox winning 5 to 4.

Manager McCarthy of the Cubs acknowledged his satisfaction over the results of the second weekend invasion of the mainland and the Coast League, when the Cubs returned to Catalina Island, and more heavy batting practice was ordered for Tuesday.

The saying—"as Babe goes, so go the Yankees"—was fact Tuesday in the game of the American League champions at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Bambino hobbled with a crippled leg through a game the Yankees took from Cincinnati Reds 2 to 1. Youngsters had a hard time to get a hit, although the battered slugger hit a single and Bob Meusel in his season inaugural belted a homer into Tampa Bay.

Brooklyn was beaten 3 to 2 in 11 innings by St. Louis Browns at Tarpon Springs.

The Giants sat and watched it rain at St. Augustine, temporary headquarters.

Bill Carrigan's hard working Boston Red Sox had an off day when the first rain in three weeks put an end to sun shine and diamond practice at New Orleans.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics have found their batting eyes. Up till Monday their hits had been scarce and their victories mostly due to the strong arm of the pitcher, Boston Braves 9-2, at Ft. Myers, Fla. Monday they hit 12 safeties, including three doubles and a home run.

Phillies also are showing improvement in batting. Against Columbus of the American League Monday night, McInnis' second string squad had made 11 hits, including two doubles and two triples when rain stepped the game in the seventh inning with the score 7-7.

Glenn Wright, star shortstop, who has been out of the game with an injured hand several days, was expected to return to the lineup when the Pittsburgh Pirates again clash with the Athletics at San Francisco Tuesday. The Pirates defeated the Athletics Monday, 4 to 2.

Tommy Thevenow, shortstop, helped the St. Louis Cardinals to their 5-4 victory over the Washington Senators by his long double to center.

Manager George Moriarty of the Detroit Tigers has taken occasion to spill reports he contemplates releasing Earl Whitehill, Art Johns and Johnny Neun to the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast league.

After several trouncings by baseball teams major and minor league, and Indians went into the second session with the Yannisians at their Lakeland Fla. training camp Tuesday.

The regulars took the Yannisians, Monday, 32. Cincinnati Reds met the New York Yankees in second game of their brief series at St. Petersburg, Fla., Tuesday.

BRITISH DRIVER HOPES TO BEAT AMERICAN MARK

Daytona Beach, Fla.—(P)—American golfers, tennis players and boxers are partly responsible for appearance here of Major H. O. D. Segrave, British racing driver, who hopes to pilot the twin twelve cylinder "Mystery S," at 200 miles an hour over the Ocean straightway.

Major Segrave attained only 100 miles an hour in his first test spin Monday, but his hopes are high.

"I've grown a little weary of England running second to Americans in sports," he said. "It is time some one did something about it."

Tiny ridges in the beach, caused by waves broken by westerly winds, proved troublesome in the first test.

The giant racer with George Lavender, mechanic, clinging precariously to the upper surface, rocked along a ten-mile stretch at 100 miles an hour but a half was called.

Garrigan Expected To Bolster Red Sox Morale

New Orleans, La.—(P)—The Boston Red Sox are off on a personality conducted personality campaign. If they get anywhere in baseball it will be directly due to the personality of William F. Carrigan, who has returned to the scenes of his former triumphs, after absence of ten years, in an effort to get Boston out of last place in the American League.

Bill Carrigan has personality plus and he has instilled a spirit in the Red Sox they have not known in recent years. Players' training here now are practically the athletes who went through the motions here a year ago but they do not look the same. The team of necessity will be much the same as last year with one difference noticeably strengthened.

The club promises to get some good catching. Fred Hoffman formerly of the Yankees, has returned to the majors after a stay at St. Paul and with Grover Hartley, veteran major leaguer but still a good catcher and fast hitter, will do the catching. The only contest behind the bat is for the position of third catcher. Clifford Knox who had a trial with Pittsburgh, seems the best prospect. The Sox have picked up two likely infielders, although their immediate entrance into the lineup is doubtful.

Paul Wan, who played for the Yankees and Russell Rollins, who played last year with both Portsmouth and Mobile.

Manager Carrigan has said it seems probable the infield will be composed of Todd at first base, Regan at second, Rigney at short and Haney at third.

William Russell, advanced from the International league seems to be slated

Paul Wan, who played for the Yankees and Russell Rollins, who played last year with both Portsmouth and Mobile.

Manager Carrigan has said it seems probable the infield will be composed of Todd at first base, Regan at second, Rigney at short and Haney at third.

William Russell, advanced from the International league seems to be slated for a utility role along with Rollins and Wanninger.

The outfield presents a problem in one position, assuming that "Baby Doll" Jacobson will take care of one place with Ira Flegstead flanking him. John Tobin, a veteran who is still a good player must be considered and two younger players have made their presence felt in the spring. Cico Carlyle, who compiled a good record with Toronto, seems ready for the majors and Walter Shaner has been good. Fred Bratton, another veteran, completes the outfield material.

Strength of the pitching staff will depend on development of some players who have been threatening to start something for some time. Bryan Harris, former Athletic pitcher, Weller, Wiltz, Wingfield Lundgren and Riving of last years staff, will start again.

Daniel K. MacFarland, former Boston school boy, who pitched with spectacular to help him, had a brief trial last season and has shown improved form this year. Jack Russell is certain to become a regular pitcher. Eudolph Sommer, who is up from the American Association and Herbert Bradley, youngster from Topeka, will be kept to join in the test involving the survival of the fittest.

Heinie Wagner, a great shortstop when Carrigan was winning a world championship for Boston, has returned to be first lieutenant to his old commander and has the same unquenchable fire of the "boss."

Both Carrigan and Wagner are setting younger fellows an example by getting into the midst of the players activities of the camp.

The Boston Red Sox will be built about one personality.

Carrigan—that's all.

Two Wrightstown teams failed to make an impression on the leaders in the first annual bowling tournament of the Wisconsin Department of the American Legion Monday evening on the Elk alleys. The Wrightstown post and the G. F. No. 122 team of 1927, the same city had a 1226 score. Besides these two regular teams, 110 Appleton Booster squads took the drives.

Two changes were made among the Booster leaders as the result of Monday evening's bowling. The Joyce Superior Coffee team, which had a 2648 score for second place, and the Mory Ice Cream Co. team, which had a 2628 score for fourth place, were moved to third and fourth place respectively. The Burt's Candy Shop team from Hartford, which had a 2607 score, was moved to fifth place. The G. F. No. 122 team of 1927, which had a 1226 score, was moved to sixth place. The Wrightstown team, which had a 1211 score, was moved to seventh place.

Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock three Appleton Boosters teams go on at 7 o'clock. Thursday is an open date in the tourney and then Friday the regulars start a big weekend of bowling, with only a few Boosters mixed in.

Kimberly-Clark easers held their grip on first place in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial loop Saturday but were given a terrific battle by the plucky Citizens Bank five, playing with only four men. The K-C team finally won, 20-24, but at the half lead only 14-22, outscoring the rival quartet in the final periods, 16-12, and the Bankers had a full quintet the tale might have been different.

Van Kyzyn lead the K-C men to victory with six baskets and LaRoux, Doetlicher and Clark followed with three ringers each. Busch played a good defensive game. H. Voecks and W. Voecks used the Bank shooters, dropping four baskets and a free try each and McKenry added two of each kind. In the final periods, H. Voecks missed six of seven free tries.

Final games in the loop this week will decide the title, third place and the cellar teams. The Coated Paper Co. five, now in third clutches, with the fourth place Bankers Tuesday evening in the opener. A Coated win will clinch third for that team and a loss will tie the rivals for the year, with both having completed their schedules.

In the second game the Kimberly's five meets the Riverides and can be dropped to second under the Fox Riverers by a loss, which is hardly possible. A Riverside win will give that team sixth place for the season and a loss will tie it for sixth and last.

ONLY ONE NEW LEADER IN A. B. C. TOURNAMENT

Peoria, Ill.—(P)—Only one new leader of the Detroit forced himself to the front in the American Bowling Congress tournament here Monday night, the Detroiters rolling into fifth place in the singles with 674.

Eddie Votel, individual champion last year at Toledo, drew a 610 count with his Votel five of East Pittsburgh, but his team failed to maintain the pace set by his champion lead off man.

Philadelphia—Benny Bass, Philadelphia, defeated Joe Glick, Brooklyn (10).

Pittsburgh—Johnny Risko, Cleveland, defeated Sandy Seifert, Pittsburgh (10).

with the Co. D and Galpin Hardware squads. These teams will share seventh and last should Riverside win. The Kimberly's is a heavy favorite with the Coated-Bank game a tossup.

The 1927 title will be decided Saturday in a single game between the first-place K-C men and the Fox Riverers, next in line. A Fox River win after Kimberly has beaten Riverside will mean a tie for first and a Kimberly win will give that crew the five meets the Riverides and can be dropped to second under the Fox Riverers by a loss, which is hardly possible. A Riverside win will give that team sixth place for the season and a loss will tie it for sixth and last.

Tigers Develop "Sock;" Will Be Loop Dark Horse

San Antonio, Tex.—(P)—The dark horse of the American League may wear tigers stripes. Detroit players are exhibiting what boxing followers call a "sock," which has nothing to do with a covering for the foot. Straight down the batting order the Tigers can hit and it seems possible a change in strategy may result in the maximum offensive being mustered.

An impression is created in the training camp of the Junglers that players will be held responsible for individual initiative.

George Moriarity called to the managerial responsibility after ten years as an umpire, has let the players know he expects them to win baseball games and would just as soon have them win them their way as his.

In the Detroit outfield will be found three of the main cogs in the offensive. Moriarity expects to make his team. Manush, current batting leader of the league, Hellman, who held the title three times, and Fotherhill, who was a menacing candidate for the same honor. "Red" Wingo is returned from last year's cast as an extra outfielder and has been joined on the bench by Arthur Rubie, competent batsman from the Southern Association.

Addition of Marty McManus, late of the Browns, has added power to the infield. McManus will play second base and last second in the lineup from the outset. Jackie Tavener, diminutive shortstop, has been moved to the top of the batting order, where he will be able to use his size to make it hard for opposing pitchers. He also bats left handed, an asset under ordinary conditions for a lead off man. Warner will be back at third base and Lucerne Blue will take care of first with a promotion to field captain to speed him up.

An extra infield is available. In Neun at first, Gehring, second or third, and two recruits, Bernard Deviveros and George Redfern, shortstop. Deviveros came from the Texas league and Redfern was promoted from the catching staff to some extent but there seems a chance a recruit may crash his way into the select circle of received. The Tigers have three veteran catchers, Bassler, Woodall and Mamon and if Marvin Shea makes a place for himself one of the older men will have to go. Shea was going at a rapid clip when he hurt a toe. Mamon was also hurt in spring training.

Manager Moriarity believes the 1927 pitching staff is an improvement over that of 1926.

George Dauss has been lost to the club through sickness but Jess Doyle has returned from International league to shoulder the relief burden. Whitehill has been showing good left handed form, supported able by Wolfe and Johns, Gibson, Collins, Stoner, Smith and Holloway are right handers, returned from last year.

New York—Ruby Goldstein, N. Y., knocked out Sid Keppen, Beaver Falls, Penn. (2).

Boston—Johnny Vocca, Boston, defeated Fidel LaBarba, flyweight champion (10) title not involved.

Chicago—Frankie Genaro and Willie La Morte drew (10).

Harry Kahn, Milwaukee, defeated California Joe Gans (10).

Johnstown, Pa.—(P)—Willie Beitle, Trenton, N. J., and Joey LaGrey, Johnstown, drew (10).

P. A.
-the password to pipe-pleasure

GIVE the sign to the man behind the counter and he will hand you a tin of the grandest tobacco that ever snuggled in the bowl of a pipe. Throw back the lid and revel in that tantalizing aroma of real tobacco. Load up and light up. There you have it!

That is Prince Albert, Gentlemen—smoked by more men than any other pipe-brand. This overwhelming preference didn't "just happen." It exists for the single reason that P. A. brings more deep-down, solid satisfaction out of a pipe than any diet you could put it on.

The very first pull will tell you that Prince Albert is unlike any other tobacco. Notice how cool it smokes, no matter how wide you open the throttle. Notice, too, that it doesn't bite the tongue or parch the throat, no matter how often you fill-up and pull-in.

You may think you are all set on a smoke-program. Fair enough. But don't let that interfere with your getting a first-hand knowledge of what P. A. offers in real pipe-pleasure. Where there's so much P. A. smoke, there must be the fire of truth. Try it and see!

PRINCE ALBERT
—the national joy smoke!

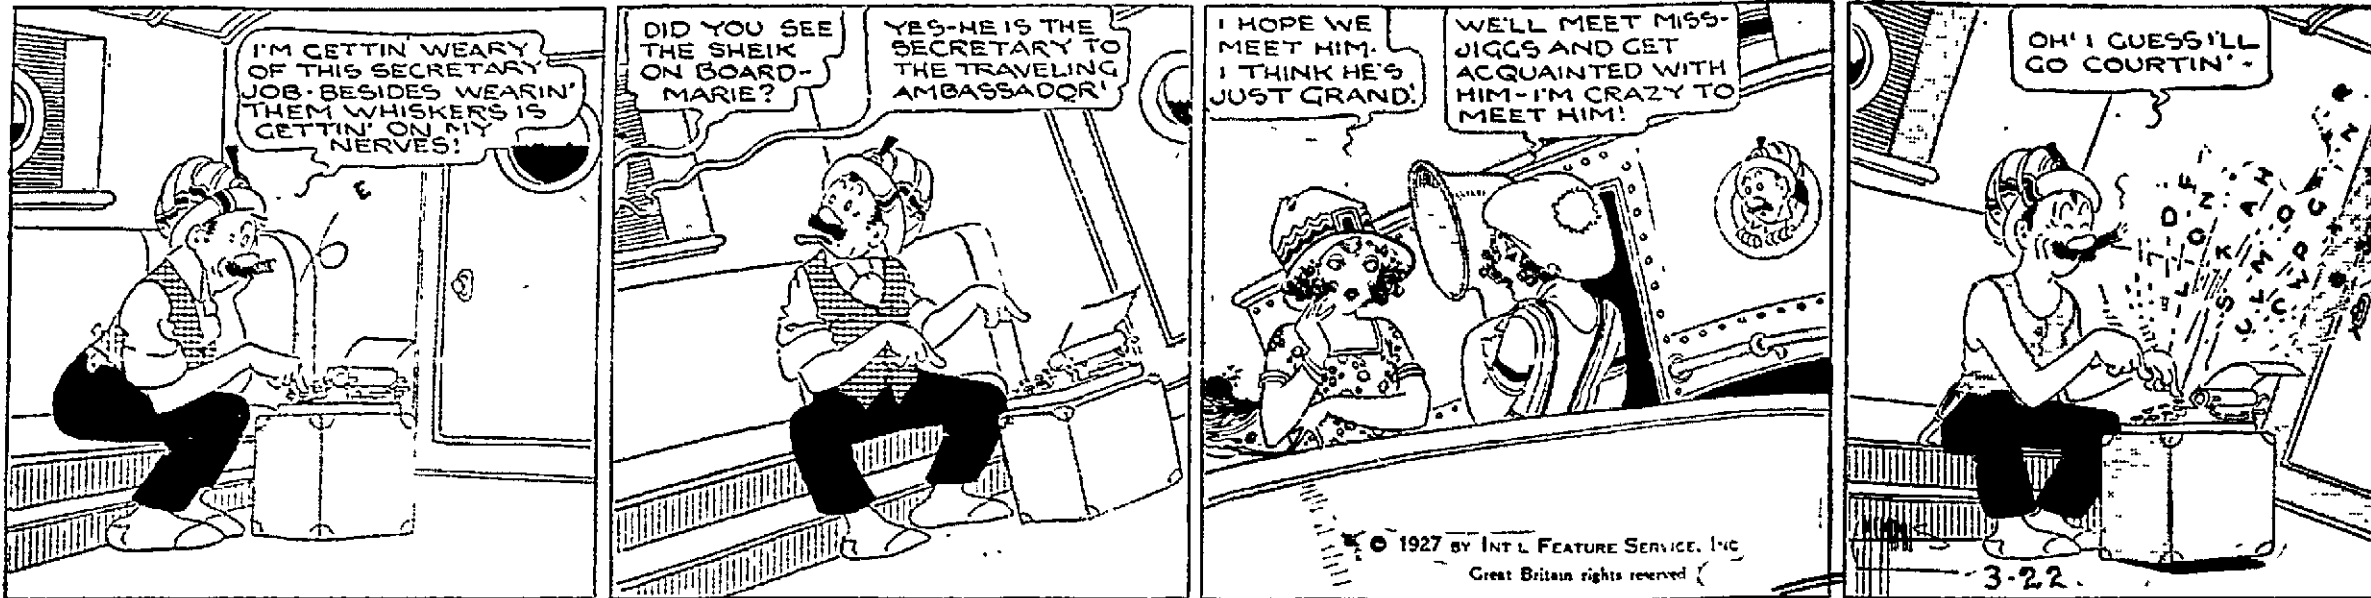

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, round and half-pound tin tins, and round crystal glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Screaming madly and with sirens shrieking two great fire trucks whirled up the street. In front of them, weaving its way through the traffic at fifty miles an hour, sped the fire chief's car.
"4555 Beechnut!" shouted the fire chief to his chauffeur. "Step on it!"

"Where's the fire?" repeated the chief.

Fresh Vegetables Are Suggested For Family

Madison — (AP) — Fresh vegetables and citrus foods should form the major part of the family diet during the early days of spring.

This is the advice of the state board of health regarding health measures in the "transitional months of March and April."

"A diet containing fresh vegetables and citrus foods, especially at the close of winter, if of considerable value in maintaining health," a report from the board stated. "The appearance of greens and fruits after the winter is not only a factor in appealing to the appetite, but has a high hygienic value as well."

The history of scurvy was pointed to as an example of how a diet lacking vitamins can result in illness. Before the days of modern transportation scurvy was common. An extended transportation later brought fresh produce into more universal use. What few cases of scurvy are seen today are for the most part in young children or workers in industrial camps who depend on dry foods for a diet. During the cold rushes in Alaska nearly thirty years ago, it was pointed out, scurvy developed because of the lack of green stuffs for food.

"That scurvy is not at the present day a general disease," the board explained further, "is due to the fact that most people may now obtain a much greater variety of fresh vegetables over a greater period of the year than formerly. It is one of the diseases that commerce has tended to rectify. Scurvy is due to the lack of what is now known as the anti-scorbutic vitamin. This vitamin is found in the citrus fruits and in the fresh, clean, raw vegetables, especially the leafy vegetables, and to some extent in various other fresh fruits."

"The leafy vegetables also contain considerable fibrous matter which aids digestion, and likewise is valued for the general well being of the individual. They are within the reach of the poor as well as the well-to-do, and should be included in the daily diet of every family. The early appearance of garden stuffs from warmer climates has therefore been beneficial to our northern population."

INGROWN NAIL Turns Right Out Itself

Winnepesaukee by Percy Derusha and Addison Sargent. Sargent gave chase in his flyover, exhausted the animal in fifteen minutes, drove it toward Derusha, who shot it with a rifle.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can use it from the drug store. A tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughness the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

ASHLAND, MENASHA START STATE MEET WEDNESDAY MORNING

16 District Winners Compete in High School Tourney This Week

Madison —(P)— High school cage stars of the waning winter sport will provide a grade climax to interscholastic competition this weekend when sixteen teams from villages and hamlets of Wisconsin and from metropolitan centers gather here for the state title fight.

Wednesday the pick of Badger teams will swing into action on the hard court at the University of Wisconsin, officially beginning the elimination trials which will eventually leave but one survivor, 1927 champion of Wisconsin.

Competitors who will battle for the hypothetical crown earned their right two weeks ago in district tourneys.

Ashland and Menasha will start the tournament at 10 o'clock in the morning, followed by the Eau Claire-Nekoosa game at 11 o'clock.

In the afternoon Kenosha and New Richmond will lock horns with Kewaunee and Platteville, taking the floor one hour later. The last game of the daylight period will begin at 4 p. m., when La Crosse and Watertown clash.

Night entertainment for the fans will be provided by six crack high school teams. At 7 p. m. Waupun and Ladysmith will face their first test of the tournament. Laona and Wausau are paired for the 8 o'clock battle. The final game of the opening day's play will bring two Madison teams together in what promises to be one of the best games of the meet. Central and Wisconsin High have both maintained good records on the hard court during the season.

Teams from the sixteen localities have had sufficient opportunity during the two weeks respite to perfect offenses and defenses, assuring some of the highest types of tournament play ever seen in the Capital City.

Finals of the tournament will be played Saturday night, semi-final games being scheduled for earlier in the day.

The close of the tournament will end King Basketball's reign in Badgerdom for the current season, other tournaments between prep and inde-

LINDSEY SEX LECTURES DRAW PRIEST'S FIRE

Madison — Birth control advocates who are being brought as speakers to the University of Wisconsin do more moral damage than would result in the importation of 100 immoral women the Rev. H. C. Hengell, pastor of St. Paul's University Catholic chapel, told his congregation of students in a sermon Sunday. The pastor referred to the recent lecture at the university on birth control by Dr. Rachel Yarros, president of the Chicago Social Hygiene association, and the scheduled talk on March 28 by Judge Ben E. Lindsay of Denver on "Companionable Marriages."

pamphlets containing such information were referred to the writer. A man from the northern part of the state asked if it were practicable to grow lentils in Northern Wisconsin in the latitude of St. Paul. Mr. Haskin reported that lentils were grown quite extensively in Michigan and there was no reason for not growing them successfully in northern Wisconsin.

Information on the robbery of the Denver government mint in 1920 was asked, but it was found the mint was not robbed but the automobile of Federal Reserve bank agents who had just obtained money from the mint was stolen from the bank's messenger.

No credit for the adjusted compensation is allowed to members of the S. A. T. C. during the World War unless the members were enlisted men detailed to that division," the director answered an inquiry on that topic.

Questions to Mr. Haskin should be addressed to the Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

WANT TO HEAR OTHER SIDE

The Rev. Father Hengell warned members of his congregation against attending such lectures and countered the argument that people went to hear the other side with the declaration that "There is no other side than the right one."

More than 800 students crowded Music hall last Thursday when Dr. Yarros gave her lecture.

This Oil Outfit Free with order for one drum of

Delco Motor Oil

A HANDY, drip-proof, genuine Bennett Oil pump; a funnel-spout quart measure, a Corbin lock, and a steel drum—this complete outfit furnished FREE with your first order for a drum of Delco Motor Oil—15, 30 or 50 gallon!

We are making this special offer simply to get you into the habit of buying your motor oil by the drum. You benefit in several ways:

- (1) Your oil costs less when you buy by the drum—you get the benefit of bulk prices. A worthwhile saving!
- (2) Oil is handy when you need it—right there in your own garage. This might be the means of saving you scored cylinders or damaged bearings sometime. When the oil in your crankcase gets low, it is dangerous to drive even a short distance. An oil supply in your garage is the best engine insurance you can buy!
- (3) It is better for your engine to use one kind of oil, of uniform high quality, rather than a mixture of oils. When you buy by the quart you probably buy one kind of oil one time, and another kind the next time. Get the drum habit!
- (4) Delco Motor Oil keeps on lubricating at motor heats far past what ordinary asphalt-base or blended oils will stand. Get the Delco habit!

We benefit because we know you will like Delco Motor Oil so well, after you have used one drum, that you will continue to use this better oil exclusively!
